Flag design or designers

The City of Carlisle asked recently suggestions for a design of a flag to represent our city in Philadelphia during 1976.

Chain-letter schemes

If someone asks you to join a money-making plan involving chain letters and U.S. Savings Bonds, you'd better refuse. You aren't likely to make any money—it's more likely you'll lose your "investment" to get in on the deal and it's possible you may be prosecuted for violation of federal, state or local laws.

A few months ago, a number of end-chain schemes were launched in Southern California. The intermingling organizations were active under several misleading names—'Your March of Bonds' (United States Defense Foundation), 'Century Club', 'Exclusive One Million, Inc.' (United Sam Investment, Inc.), 'Six-Pack Club'.

The scheme most often used worked this way—the victim became an "active member" by paying $27.00 in chain letters and U.S. Savings Bonds, you'd better refuse. You aren't likely to make any money—it's more likely you'll lose your "investment" to get in on the deal and it's possible you may be prosecuted for violation of federal, state or local laws.

Since the membership lists were originally prepared by the promoters—with their names and addresses or those of their associates—reading the lists—the scheme would provide Bonds for the promoters long before—old members reaped any harvest.

The promoters of that plan used two variations—the 'Six Pack', involving lists of only six names, and the 'Century Club', which used 100 Bonds, in lieu of $25 Bonds.

So Tony took a little assistance from Kay re-discovered his old frame wagon in the basement over the weekend.

It was minus lounge, several nails had either rusted or dry rot had set in, but overall it was still a workable wagon, even though without its steering device.

A long piece of telephone wire, there's more of that kind in the neighborhood than baling wire, was soon fashioned into the spare plate that holds the front wheels, and grandson Brian was introduced to a wagon ride.

CHURCHILL'S LEGACY
FULTON, Mo.—Nearly 30 years ago, Winston Churchill, the great wartime Prime Minister of Great Britain, came to this small mid-Missouri college town to give his celebrated "Iron Curtain" speech which made the free world realize the peril it faced from the rise of "Moscow" as a communist-embodied in the Soviet Union.

From Churchill's visit to Westminster, more than a half century ago, the Department of the Treasury has advised the public that chain-letter schemes involving Savings Bonds—which are essentially get-rich-quick endeavors—do a distinct disservice to the Treasury's Savings Bonds Program.

Today, the Churchill Memorial at Westminster, with its superb, stone by stone reconstruction of a London parish church built by Sir Christopher Wren, is a fitting tribute to the hero of the British leader who opposed totalitarianism in all its forms.

At the end of World War II, the United States was protected by the monopoly of the atomic bomb. To be sure, even then Soviet espionage agents were at work, stealing America's atomic secrets.

HOW TO FLAG: Read the list of words look at the puzzle. You'll find these words in all directions—horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backward. Draw a circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle. Then, in the words list, check off the words. If you find a word you are sure you have the given number of letters left over. For more on this, see MAGIC WORDS.

populations continue to fall under communist domination. The recently independent Portuguese province of Mozambique in Africa now declares itself a Marxist state. In Angola, the only question is whether a pro-Moscow or pro-French element will come to power.

The communist agit-prop apparatus is as strong as ever. When the Spanish government executed five terrorists who had murdered policemen, leaving demonstrations were organized around the world. The electronic media in the U.S. had predicted a kneejerk liberal reaction to the "spontaneous" demonstrations, giving air time to anti-Spanish speeches by old-line British laborites who had fought in Spain with the Communist International Brigade.

In Mexico, the government ordered Spanish offices to shut down. Not surprisingly, Mexico's president recently paid a friendly visit to Communist Cuba where the Castro dictatorship is maintained by state terrorism.

It has been a long struggle since Winston Churchill sounded his "cold war" warning in 1946. Despite the claims of academic pundits, the cold war continues. Revolutionary war continues in the world countryside from Southeast Asia to Southern Africa. Urban terrorist warfare continues from Madrid to the streets of San Francisco.

Blue Licks native Waggoner appearing in Diners' Playhouse production

Marion Waggoner, who is currently appearing as Chief Johnson in the Diners' Playhouse production of "Mister Roberts" is a native of Blue Licks. In 1974, he wrote and staged his own outdoor drama, "Simon Kenton", which was presented at Blue Licks Battlefield State Park, to capacity crowds.

Marion Waggoner

Waggoner is presently employed by the outdoor drama "The Legend of Daniel Boone" in Harroburg. In 1968, he appeared in the show as Flinders Canfield, and since then, has appeared in every male role with the exception of Daniel Boone and Blackfish. Besides acting in the production, he has also been involved with the various technical sides to the drama. For the 1973 production, he became General Manager as well as Assistant Director. For the upcoming 1975 season, he will return as Director in addition to being

General Manager. Besides his association with "The Legend of Daniel Boone", he has worked with several other theatre organizations, including the Mayville Players.
