Kentucky's hunters need to shape up—physically, that is. A sportsman who is confined behind a desk for most of the year, or who is out of shape for any reason, may have his long-awaited trip spoiled by fatigue and sore, aching muscles.
Even the hunter who has already got in some dove and squirrel hunting would do no harm to himself by the physical condition, since generally little physical exertion is required in pursuing these species. Later trips can be much more demanding.
This is particularly true of grouse hunting, which occurs in the mountainous regions of Eastern Kentucky, where an entire day may be spent climbing steep ridges and scrambling over rocks and logs in quest of the elusive ruffed grouse.
If you are over 40, any exercise program should begin with a visit to your family doctor for a good check-up. Then a daily exercise program, particularly for the legs and back, should be followed faithfully.

Election Day

would remain in existence for the first year and one half of the two-year period and would continue to be supported by the cities and counties. Blake estimated the start-up costs of the new local courts for the last half year of the period at approximately $4 million.
But as of January, 1976, the state would be supporting the entire court system of 40 referendum passes. Blake said that an early, rough estimate for the 1976 period would be $35.29 million. It already costs the taxpayers money to run the court system. "It is a question of which pocket the money comes out of."
The passage of the judicial amendment would not void the outcome of the current statewide race for clerk of the Court of Appeals. The elected clerk would just become clerk of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals would both appoint clerks.
However, circuit court clerk elections would remain intact and the elected clerks would double as clerks to their local district court also.
The portion of the amendment calling for all judges to be attorneys was not included in the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on a case brought before them by Harlan attorney Eugene Onea. The case involves a man's right to a trial before a judge who is an attorney.
Goss has compiled a group of figures on Kentucky's magistrates, police officers and county judges, with which Martha Maloney of the state's Legislative Research Commission concurs. Goss claims that 94 per cent of Kentucky's magistrates are not attorneys; 78.1 per cent of Kentucky police judges are not attorneys; and 88.4 per cent of the Commonwealth's county judges are not attorneys. He also claimed that these courts handle over 90 per cent of the cases in Kentucky.

If the referendum passes, its implementation would begin in January, 1976 and would be totally implemented by January, 1978.

Police station

Clarence Cord were not present at the called meeting.
Mayor Bill Power read a letter from Joseph H. Conley, vice president of the Nicholas County Historical Society, suggesting that the City design a flag to be housed in Philadelphia for the Bicentennial celebration. Bicentennial cities across the country are being asked to send their flags to Philadelphia. The City is asking for suggestions for a set flag.
Council voted 4-0 to table the subject of a new police station until January when the new Council is seated.
Council voted 4-0 to obtain a good sized, well-lighted sign directing people to the Carlisle Police Station. It will be placed in front of the City Building.
Mayor Power announced that a schedule has been set up for policemen to do certain duties at certain hours. The times will change each day so that nobody can be certain at what time an area will be patrolled. Some of these duties include walking alleys, checking business doors, using radar for speeding, patrolling nursing home, factory, and housing units. The radio is sounded 16 hours a day. This schedule is intended to improve the police protection in Carlisle, he said.

VOTE for GOV. JULIAN CARROLL

President Ford has Vetted Our Burley Tobacco Price Increase.
We now in Nicholas County have 65¢ per gal gasoline. All other costs of living have advanced in proportion under our National Leadership.
No hope yet for anything better soon. U.S. Commissioner of Agriculture Butz cares not for the President of the United States, the Farmers of America and Kentucky, nor the Consumer with his advice to the President.
Please, please go to the Polls on Tuesday, Nov. 4th and vote for Governor Carroll and his ticket, yes for you and your family.
Thanks a lot.
