J. Winston Coleman Jr. to write introduction to the History of Nicholas County; charter members names to be published

J. Winston Coleman Jr., distinguished Kentucky author-historian, will write the Introduction to the History of Nicholas County to be published during the next several months by the Nicholas County Historical Society, Inc.

Four bands in Christmas Parade

Four bands have notified the Jaycee Christmas Parade Committee that they will be able to participate in the Carlisle Parade on Thursday, Dec. 4, at 7:30 p.m.

They are Mason County, Deming, M.M.I., and Nicholas County. Eight other neighboring bands have been invited to participate, $50 expense money will be provided each visiting band.

So far, the Nicholas County Historical Society and the Jaycees have agreed to enter floats in the parade. All local organizations and any interested individuals are invited to enter floats in the parade. Prizes are $100, $75, $50 and $25.

The Nicholasettes, under the direction of Mrs. Paul Hardin, will perform during the parade.

Jaycee Turkey Party, Nov. 20

The Carlisle Jaycees will hold its annual Turkey Party Nov. 20 at 7 p.m. in the Carlisle Armory.

Twenty turkeys and one country ham will be given away.

See any Jaycee member for advance tickets.

Harrogate, Tenn., conferred on him the honorary Doctor of Letters degree.

Two years later, in 1947, the Nicholas County Historical Society, Inc. has organized a membership drive, according to Mrs. Bill Galters, membership chairman.

An estimated $250 more is needed in order to publish the History of Nicholas County in 1976.

The Society hopes to obtain additional money through new memberships. All money earned during the Bicentennial Celebration last year will be used to publish the history.

Any person joining the Society before Jan. 1, 1976 will be listed as a charter member of the Historical Society in the History of Nicholas County.

Cong. Perkins notes appointments to Coast Guard

Congressman Carl D. Perkins has announced that the United States Coast Guard Academy is accepting applications from young men and women until Dec. 15 appointment to the academy as a Cadet, class entering in June 1976.

Cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal cost and, in addition, receive pay and allowances to fulfill their living expenses. Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied sciences fields.

Appointments to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments.

Any high school graduate between the ages 17 and 21 who wishes to qualify for the competition should write to the Director of Admissions, United States Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn. 06320.

University of Kentucky honored the Squire with the degree of Doctor of Literature. This actually was the third degree Coleman received from his alma mater, as back in 1929 he had completed graduate work leading to the master's degree of Mechanical Engineering.

In June 1969, Transylvania University awarded Coleman the degree of Doctor of Law.

Among the Squire's most famous books are: Stage-Coach Days in the Bluegrass; Slavery Times in Kentucky; Historic Kentucky; Famous Kentucky Brands; Kentucky: A Pictorial History; and Sketches of Lexington, to only mention a few.

John W. Conley, author of the History of Nicholas County, makes a history progress report on page 5 of today's Mercury.

LEGION MEET SET

American Legion Post 17 will hold their annual ham supper Friday evening, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. A dance will follow the supper. All members are urged to attend.

Brother Roy Nelson, on ladder, and Dennis Deane replace telephone lines to the home of Eugene Gates in Deserolls after a trailer-truck caught and pulled them down on Friday. Across the street, a telephone pole was pulled by the wires and knocked out

GOVERNOR

Carroll easy victor; Faul wins council seat

By a margin of better than 3 to 1 Gov. Julian M. Carroll easily carried all Nicholas County precincts and statewide was well ahead of Republican candidate Robert E. Gable.

Faul Wins Race
The City Council race seemingly generated more interest locally, with five incumbents being re-elected, and Robert A. Faul being elected to fill the sixth slot on council.

Ministers to meet
The regular monthly meeting of the Nicholas County Ministerial Association will meet at the First Baptist Church in Carlisle on Saturday, Nov. 8 at 11 a.m.

Plans for the Community Thanksgiving Service on Wednesday, Nov. 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Armory, by the Association will also be the agenda according to Rev. Richard Chamberlin, president.

Governor Carroll

Wills, Julian Green, Charles Fay, Alex Crawford and Clarence Cord. Four persons received write-in votes in the Mayors Office precinct, Robert Costner 3; Ralph Shoemaker 3; David Zachary 1 and Roger Womack 1.

Unopposed candidates of interest locally were State Representative Adrian Arnold, polling 798 votes; Commonwealth Attorney G. L. Tucker, 347; Circuit Court Clerk Paulah M. Hughes, 804, and Circuit Judge John P. Lair, 804 votes.

CENTRAL KY. ANTIQUE SHOW
Kentucky's best known antique show and sale is the upcoming seventh annual Central Kentucky Antique Show and Sale, Nov. 8-9, held at the Sports Convention Center in Frankfort.

This two-day event has attracted antique dealers from 10 states who will exhibit wares never before shown in this area. There will be exhibited all periods of furniture, carpets, silver, bronzes, jewelry, lighting devices, clocks, glass, china, paintings and hundreds of other items which may be found in any home.

Tobacco market to open Nov. 24

'75 marketing cards mailed

The 1975 marketing cards have been mailed to reach most farmers by Nov. 1. Eugene Letcher, chairman ASC Committee stated Monday. Farmers should check each card they receive very carefully. "If any errors are noted, they should immediately contact the county office," Mr. Letcher further stated.

All cards have been mailed except on those farms that have recently had a change of farm name, and on those farms where a DDT, TDE, endrin, or temephos use certification has not been filed. If a farmer has not received his marketing card by Nov. 7, he should contact the ASCS Office.

Mr. Letcher wishes to remind all growers that if they want more than one marketing card at a time, they must request the extra cards at the county office. Since several pounds of tobacco have been leased in the county, a farmer might find that he will need more than one card to sell his tobacco.

Since it takes about seven to 10 days to order these cards, growers should be planning now so that the county office will have time to receive the extra cards.

The farmers who had warehouse-stored carry-over tobacco will notice that these pounds have been subtracted from their card as the first sale. Any questions on payment for this tobacco should be directed to the respective warehouse.

Additional information on marketing cards can be obtained from your local ASCS Office.

Local tobacco show at Armory Nov. 13

Local tobacco show at Armory Nov. 13

At a meeting Friday in Lexington, of the Burley Sales Committee, Monday, Nov. 24, was selected as the opening day for the 1975 burley tobacco sales. Most farmers have made good progress with their crops and are ready for the Nov. 24 opening according to reports at the meeting.

Estil Noffsinger, Nicholas County Extension Agent reports that locally more tobacco is stripped and ready for market than has been at this time in past years. He says that the burley cannot be officially weighed in at the warehouses until Nov. 14, although most markets are receiving.

The 19th annual Nicholas County Tobacco Festival will be held Thursday, Nov. 13, at the Carlisle Armory.

All Nicholas County growers including 4-H and FFA members are urged to exhibit. $250 will be awarded winners.

Mr. Noffsinger says that Nicholas farmers have good quality crops and that they are better than in most sections of the state.

Albert G. Clay, chairman of the Tobacco Auction Warehouse Association, warned farmers that they might lose six or seven cents a pound if they don't separate their burley into at least three marketing grades. Under the price-support system, he noted, farmers would receive that much more for graded tobacco than for mixed leaf.

Irvin Maslow, tobacco specialist at the University of Kentucky, reported that Kentucky farmers already have started separating their tobacco to a greater extent than they did last year.

Burley sales will be conducted 36 hours a day and are scheduled for Nov. 24, 25, 26 and 28. After that, they will be on the first four days of each week. The Christmas holiday recess will begin with the close of sales Dec. 18, and sales will be resumed Jan. 5.

Farmers invited to Field Day

Nicholas county farmers are invited to a Field Day Saturday, Nov. 8, at the Shepherd Dairy Farm to see a new manure handling system. The Shepherd Farm is located on the Carpenter Pike about one and one-half miles from U.S. 58. Two demonstrations will be held. One at 11 a.m. and the second at 1:30 p.m.

The demonstrations will show how a dairy operation and converts it to a usable fertilizer in a slurry-stone system and then applies it to the land through irrigation equipment.

Fire alarms costly Chief says

Nicholas County Fire Chief Woody Wilson reported Tuesday that four fire runs were made by his department on Halloween night because of pranksters. All four answered calls amounted to nothing more than tires and hay burning in the road, he said.

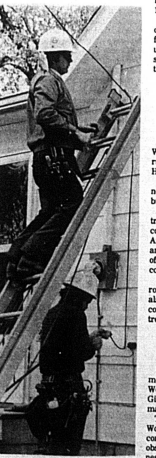

Rubel Williams, city fire department treasurer, said these runs cost the county taxpayers around $400 or more. An average of four firemen and Wilson answer each fire call. There are a total of 17 firemen, plus Wilson, on the county payroll.

Three were cut down across county roads by pranksters on Halloween night also. One man has been prosecuted in connection with the cutting of these trees.

Cemetery markers

Saturday, Nov. 8, from 1 to 5 p.m. members of the Carlisle Junior Woman's Club and Senior and Cadet Girl Scouts will be painting the white marker posts in the Carlisle Cemetery.

This work is part of a KFCW Junior Woman's Club project to beautify communities, and is being conducted in observance of Environmental Awareness Day, Nov. 15.
