

City officials more than just a name or face

Have you ever thought of our City Officials as more than just a name or a face? The following articles will attempt to give you a little bit of an insight into the backgrounds of the people who run the City of Carlisle.

Catherine Green Hopkins, attended M.M.I. and later graduated from Centre College, Danville. He received his degree in law from the University of Louisville College of Law. Before returning to Carlisle, he served for three years in the Navy.

A resident of Upper Jacktown Road, Hopkins is married to the former Barbara Griffin of Lexington. They are expecting their first child this winter.

Hopkins is a member of the Carlisle Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce. He serves on the board of trustees at M.M.I., the board of directors and the executive board of Blue Grass Area Development District, and the board of directors of Carpio Country Club. He also serves as attorney for Nicholas County Board of Education.

He serves as a deacon at the First Christian Church of Carlisle. When time allows, Hopkins enjoys golf and traveling.

William Power has served as Carlisle Mayor for 23 years. As Mayor, Power states his duties include having charge of all council meetings, acting as head of the police department and "anything else that goes with a fourth class city."

The son of the late John A. and Clancy Arnold Power, he was born in Owingsville and attended Carlisle High School. He served in the infantry for two years.

Mayor Power, a resident of Elm Street, is married to the former Colleen Hardware, a firm on Main Street in Carlisle.

A member of the American Legion, V.F.W., Chamber of Commerce, the board of the Blue Grass Area Development District and a Kentucky Colonel, Power finds time for his hobbies—golf and fishing. He attends the Carlisle Christian Church. He owns Home Hardware, a firm on Main Street in Carlisle.

Billy G. Hopkins serves as Carlisle's City Attorney. As City Attorney, Hopkins gives his duties as representing the city in all legal matters and prosecuting cases in the Carlisle Police Court. The son of Charles and the late Charles F. Hopkins is a graduate of Fleming County High School. Fishing is his favorite pastime.

Clarence Cord has served as a Councilman on the Streets and Allies Committee, the Finance Committee and the Planning and Zoning Board.

The son of Mrs. Charlie Cord, and the late Mr. Cord, he was born in Fleming county and attended Fleming County High School. He served in the Marines for four years.

Cord, a resident of Elm Street, is married to the former George Mae Buntin of Nicholas county. They have two daughters, Mrs. Jimmie (Sherry) Boots, and Debbie Cord, both of Carlisle.

He enjoys building in his spare time and has built his own home. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and attends the First Christian Church in Carlisle.

Charles Fay is another member of the City Council. A Councilman for 13 years, Fay serves on the City Building Committee and the Fire Department Committee.

The son of Fred Fay and the late Hattie Turner Fay, he was born in Fleming county and attended school in Carlisle.

Calvin Willis has served for two and one-half years as a Councilman. He is chairman of the Supplies Committee

Another Councilman is Clarence Cord. He serves as a Councilman on the Streets and Allies Committee, the Finance Committee and the Planning and Zoning Board.
