Rotary Club guest speaker

Mrs. Carrie Brumagen of Mt. Olivet will be the guest speaker Thursday (tonight) Jan. 29, 6:30 p.m. at the Carlisle Rotary Club meeting.

Mrs. Brumagen spent 10 days in June 1975 touring the Hawaiian Islands. She was accompanied by Mrs. Reuben Yount and Miss Mary K. Yount of Florenceville. Forty-seven others completed the tour group which flew from and returned to the Greater Cincinnati Airport.

The tour included the islands of Oahu, Kauai and Hawaii and the special attractions included Kapapa Missionary Church Service, Waimea Canyon, Pageant of Living Canoes, a Luau and a "Sunset and Starlight" dinner cruise.

State's new promotional slogan is announced

FRANKFORT—“Kentucky—Any reason—Any season,” has been chosen as the state's new promotional slogan. Gov. Julian M. Carroll announced on Jan. 23. The slogan, submitted by Anne Cooks, of Taylorville, will be used throughout official materials promoting state tourism, according to James C. Vernon, commissioner of the Department of Public Information.

Mrs. Cooks, an inveterate visitor of Kentucky state parks, accepted a certificate of appreciation from Gov. Carroll for her contribution to Kentucky's $1 billion tourist industry and the award of a week's stay at the state park of her choice. “My husband and I have gone to a Kentucky state park every year since we've been married,” she said. “We just love them.”

The mother of two pre-school children and wife of the County Attorney for Spencer county, Mrs. Cooks is active on the River Region Mental Health and Retardation Board.

Paris officials to vote on local landfill contract

The Nicholas County Fiscal Court agreed Saturday, Jan. 24 to allow the city of Paris to use the county landfill. The two year contract agreed upon by Nicholas County officials would allow Paris to dump up to 50 loads each month for $2,500 per month, they would then pay the going rate for any additional loads.

The contract has not yet been signed by the Paris officials and will have to come before their city commissioners for approval. However it is very likely that it will be approved by them.

Kentucky veteran may be richer in February if he kept insurance

Kentucky veterans who kept their insurance policies in force following discharge will be some $3,132,000 richer by the latter part of February as a result of the Veterans Administration's decision to pay insurance dividends on an accelerated basis.

Richard I. Houdeshash, VA Administrator, says the largest amount will go to World War II veterans who have retained their National Service Life Insurance in force.

In Kentucky 37,000 World War II

Paris City Managing Agent David Jones said that he will recommend that the Paris city commissioners approve the contract on a temporary basis. “There is no way Paris could even begin to think about operating it's own landfill for this amount the first year,” Jones said.

The Paris city commission received a letter in November indicating that their incinerator-dump was violating state laws for treatment and disposal of trash and garbage.

veterans will receive $3,434,000 for an average of about $92.

World War I veterans in Kentucky will receive $196,000 which will be distributed to 1,327 veterans. The average payment will be $149. Korean veterans will receive $27,000. Their average dividend will be $18 as 5,125 have retained their policies.

Roadhead said nationally they have dividend would be a record $274.8 million which is $41.2 million more than last year.

36% INCREASE Income rise vs. inflation locally

NEW YORK—To what extent has the rising cost of living affected residents of Nicholas county during the last five years?

How large an income does a family have to have these days to all the purchasing power it had in 1971?

A great deal more, according to data obtained from the Conference Board, the Department of Labor and others. In the five-year period, they show, the purchasing power of the dollar eroded by more than 23 cents, continuing the long-time trend in that direction. In terms of the 1969 dollar, for example, it is now worth only 48 cents.

Added to the unsettling rise in the cost of goods and services has been the increase in taxes, especially for Social Security.

All in all, the average family needs to be making nearly 40 percent more than it did five years ago to maintain the same standard of living.

For Nicholas county families that had an income of $2,200 in 1970, approximately $7,000 would be required today. Those that had $3,000 then need $11,000 now. Those whose $10,000 bracket have to have $14,000 and the ones at the $15,000 level, $21,000.

Fortunately for most local families, their incomes did rise sharply in the last five years, reaching an average of $8,700 per household by 1975, compared with $6,460 in 1970. It was an increase of 36 percent.

The gains they made enabled them to offset the rising cost of living better than families in many parts of the country.

The big losers in the race with inflation include wage earners whose paychecks haven't kept pace, those who are on fixed pensions and welfare recipients.

A study by the Conference Board, covering the past 10 years, shows that taxes continue to slobber a rising share of personal income, about 23 percent today.

Social Security contributions constituted the fastest growing segment of the total tax, shooting up 203 percent in the 10 years. State and local taxes went up 266 percent, it finds, and Federal income taxes, 170 percent.

Mrs. Garvice Kincaid elected director of Lexington bank

LEXINGTON—Mrs. Garvice D. Kincaid is among four new members elected by the stockholders to the Board of Directors of Central Bank & Trust Company.

James C. Galbraith Jr. and Thomas Workman, Carlisle natives, are among those promoted to assistant cashiers.

Mrs. Kincaid, widow of the Lexington financier, became the first woman to serve on the Central Board and one of only a very few women elected to any Lexington bank board. She joins Charles R. Hembree, H. Hart Hagan Jr., and W. E. Burnett Jr. as new board members. Four others, Earl S. Wilson Sr., Al Florence, E. F. Schaeffer Jr., and H. A. Smith Jr., were re-elected.

Retired Lexington newspaperman Herman Phelps was named Director Emeritus, culminating 25 years of active service.

Mrs. Kincaid, the former Nelle Wilson, is a native of Lexington. She attended Morton Junior and Henry Clay High Schools before graduating from Transylvania University in 1936. Prior to her 1940 marriage to Kincaid, she served the late Sam Strother Sr., as a legal secretary, doing title work for the Lexington attorney.

The mother of twin daughters, Mrs. Jane K. Nickell and Miss Joan Kincaid, and grandmother of two, Mrs. Kincaid is an enthusiastic sports fan, enjoying attendance at University of Kentucky football and basketball games. In past years Mrs. Kincaid has been active in community affairs and at one time served on the board of the Transylvania Alumni Association.

Hembree is a partner in the law firm of Kincaid, Wilson, Schaeffer and Hembree. Hagan is president of General Management, Inc., while Burnett is executive vice president and secretary of Kentucky Central Life Insurance Co.

Also announced were the promotions of several junior officers of the bank. Miss Barbara Anderson is named a vice president, Mrs. Jean Carrick, a vice president, and also assumed duties as auditor. Stanley S. Mahoney was named an assistant vice president after serving as auditor, and Robert P. Larkin was named an assistant vice president and security officer following service as an assistant cashier.

Larry Strumons, James C. Galbraith Jr., Thomas Workman, Mrs. Pamela H. Jackson, and Mrs. Candice C. Zahalka were all named assistant cashiers.

A recently appointed suburban bank manager, Galbraith is located at the Russell Cave Road branch. He is a native of Carlisle and received his business education at Pagana and Central Colleges. He has been at Central Bank since 1971.

Workman is responsible for operations in the lobby of the main bank at the corner of Short and Upper Streets. He has been employed at Central since

The following directors were also elected: Charles Matton, Charles House, Charles Chandler, Alford, Bob Myrner and Larry Wooley.

Anyone interested in joining should contact John Smoot or Clifton Waugh.

State vital statistics given

FRANKFORT—Heart disease, cancer and stroke claimed the lives of nearly 23,000 persons aged 35 and over in 1974 according to vital statistics released by the Department for Human Resources (DHR).

Heart disease caused the death of some 13,000 Kentuckians over the year. 34 Cancer killed almost 6,000 in the same age group and nearly 4,000 died of stroke or cerebrovascular disease.

“Heart disease, the number one killer, is accountable for two out of every five Kentucky deaths,” said DHR statistician Bill Mackey.

“Kentuckians under 35 die most frequently of accidents, especially highway accidents. But heart disease jumps from number five to number one on the list of leading causes of death for persons 35 and older,” he said.

The 93 lives lost due to heart disease in the 45-54 age group is more than triple the 28 heart victims aged 35 to 44. The number more than doubled again among persons 55 to 64 who died of heart disease (2,080).

Accidents are the fourth leading cause of death among Kentuckians over 25. More than 200 of the total 264 deaths from falls were persons 65 and older.

Paris-Lexington road petition

A petition drive aimed at encouraging speedy action on widening of the Paris-Lexington Road got under way Wednesday, Jan. 21.

The petition, sponsored by Bluegrass Citizens for the Preservation of Human Life (BCHL), will be located at businesses throughout Paris and Bourbon county, and also in Nicholas county.

The Paris citizens group announced plans for the petition drive last week. Spoken for by the group said backing through signatures is being sought to encourage the state to progress “in all best” on the widening project.

Those interested in signing the petition can do so at the following locations: Rockhaven Restaurant and Blue Grass Industries; Paris: Baldwin Hotel; Major Drugs, Bourbon Liquor, Burger Queen, Cable T.V. Office, C.I.T. Financial Services, Kentucky Liquor, Daily Enterprise, Daugherty Paint & Supply.

There will be a Cancer Clinic from 1:30 to 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 3 at the Nicholas County Health Center, 200 East Main Street, Paris, Ky. 40361.

Mrs. Marion Gray Hilton, R.N., will administer the tests.

The local health department requests that all Nicholas county women take a few minutes out of the day to have this test as it could save your life.

26 local student musicians to attend MSU jazz clinic

MOREHEAD—Twenty-six student musicians from the Nicholas County High School Band and 16 other high schools will attend the Morehead State University Jazz Clinic, Jan. 29-31.

Featured this year are jazz writer and educator Jamey Abernethy and trumpeter Clark Terry. Both will perform in concert.

Dr. Walter Barr, assistant professor of music at MSU, is the clinic coordinator.

The local students will leave Carlisle at 8 a.m. today (Thursday), Jan. 29 and return about 5 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 31.

He is presently employed at Kentucky Supply, Lexington.

C of C meets Friday night

The directors of the Carlisle-Nicholas County Chapter of Commerce will meet on Friday, Jan. 30, at 8:30 p.m. in Harry Buckler's office in the Deposit Bank Building.

Officers for the coming year will be elected.

'People's Voice' input sought by legislature

Representative William G. Kenton, Speaker of the Kentucky House of Representatives, has announced the implementation of a program aimed at soliciting citizen input into the 1976 legislative process.

Entitled “The People's Voice,” the program will be operated by the Speaker's Office in the State Capitol Building in Frankfort.

Any Kentuckian who wants to make comment or simply state his views, critical or otherwise, should write and mail them to “The People's Voice” in care of the Speaker's Office, State Capitol, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

The Speaker's Office will insure that the written comments are promptly and properly delivered to the correct legislative committee or legislator for their consideration.

Neither the Speaker's Office nor the committees are adequately staffed, nor do they have the facilities to reply to the comments forwarded under this program. However, the comments voiced by the people will be directed to the proper committee for its consideration, Kenton said.

Sen. Ward appointed

State Senator Thomas M. Ward, Democrat of Versailles, has been appointed to serve on the Inter-governmental Relations Committee (IRC) of the National Conference of
