Our visit to Farmer's Tobacco Warehouse

by Stephanie Hamilton

Our trip helped explain the processes of unloading, moving, and selling tobacco. To sell tobacco you must have an auctioneer and buyers. Some buyers are Reynolds, Parker, American, Southeastern. Our trip was to see these processes and learn about the many jobs they have at warehouses: weighers, packers, movers, and ticket writers. The auctioneer for this warehouse is Marshall Cox. The companies have a certain person who checks the tobacco for a person dishonest trying to hide green, muddy, or house burnt tobacco.

The packer's job is to pack the tobacco in baskets after they have taken it off the truck. Each basket must not weigh over 700 pounds. The weighers weigh the tobacco in the basket. The movers move the tobacco from one place to another with a little cart with a motor which carries it by the basket. The ticket writer goes along behind the buyers, auctioneer, etc. and staple tickets that tell what company bought it. The auctioneer sells the tobacco. The movers line the tobacco up in grades. The grades are Flyings, Lugs, and Red. All the sixth graders enjoyed the trip and we especially thank Charles Ring who arranged the trip for us.

by Brenda Burton

We went to Lexington's Farmers' Tobacco Warehouse #4 to see the tobacco sales. We arrived around 10:30 a.m.

When we were there I learned that tobacco was taken out of barns after it dries, people strip it and iron it, then send it to the warehouse to be sold.

The auctioneer auctions the tobacco to companies that use tobacco in their products. $1.15 is the best price for the tobacco today and muddy tobacco for 40 cents.

People that are dishonest might put the good tobacco on the outside and the muddy tobacco on the inside, but some people come up and take hand fulls of tobacco and check to see if it is muddy.

Our trip was interesting and fun. I appreciate the warehouse people letting us come.

1976 wool and mohair program unchanged

The incentive price of 72 cents a pound for marketings of shorn wool and a support of 80.2 cents a pound for mohair will continue unchanged from 1974 and 1975 levels Paul E. Hall, Executive Director of the ASCS Office said.

He said he received word from Washington, D.C. that these prices are in accordance with the National Wool Act, as amended, by the Agricultural Act of 1970 and the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973. The amended National Wool Act requires that support shall be at the above levels for each of the marketing years which began Jan. 1, 1971 and ends Dec. 31, 1977.

"Pulled wool will continue to be supported at a level comparable to the incentive price for shorn wool through payments on unshorn lambs," Hall stated.

As in past years, shorn wool payments will be based on a percentage of each producer's returns from sales. The percentage will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers from shorn wool up to the announced incentive price of 72 cents a pound.

Mohair payments will be calculated in a manner similar to wool.

Present market conditions indicate that payments may be required on 1975 marketings of shorn wool. Mohair prices, however, will likely remain above the support level.

Applicants for all ASCS programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

National surveys indicate that around five million of the one-to-four-year-old children in the U.S. are not immunized against polio, measles, rubella, pertussis, diptheria and tetanus. Is your child one of them?

National Farm Show scheduled Feb. 11-14

A farm show that started out with a "mere" 25,000 visitors and 88 exhibitors is now heading into its second decade as one of America's premier farm expositions.

The National Farm Machinery Show moves into its 11th year Feb. 11-14, with an agricultural spread of machinery, chemicals, seeds, techniques and ideas all aimed at showing the latest and the best the industry has to offer to today's farmer.

As always, the NFMS will be open free to the public, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day. Last year's record crowd of an estimated 175,000 is expected to be challenged again.

About 350 manufacturers and suppliers from over 30 states will fill over 400,000 square feet of exhibit space in the East and West Wings, bringing in a trade varying from 1,000 R/M forage blowers to new disease-resisting® hybrids; from liquid manure spreaders to cattle chutes; from mechanized bale feeders to high-capacity grain driers; from electronic combine monitors to combines themselves. Some of those companies will show machinery from other points of the world, including Russia, Italy, Canada, Germany and Japan. And there is still a long waiting list for space. "Your show is repeatedly the Blue Ribbon winner", says one exhibitor. Adds another, "It is only one of three national shows we attend as a factory display."

This is where many machines, seed hybrids, etc. get their first exposure in Kentucky, like Acco Seed's experimental 47601 mid-season hybrid and UC 9451 full-season variety.

Opening day plans are still tentative, but both Kentucky Governor Julian M. Carroll and Louisville's Mayor Harvey Sloane are expected to issue proclamations as in the past, declaring Feb. 8-14 Farm Machinery Week.

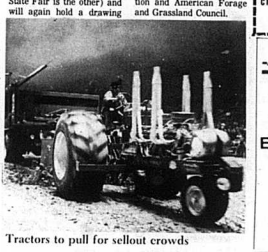
The National Farm Machinery Show is one of two annual events sponsored by Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center (Kentucky State Fair is the other) and will again hold a drawing each evening at 4 p.m. in the Freedom Hall lobby. This year the door prize will be a 19-inch color portable tv set each day.

Daily Ladies' Day programs will be back in 600-seat Newmarket Hall, and this year a major emphasis will be on cooking.

Several of the exhibiting companies will be offering drawings and games of their own, like A.O. Smith's electronic dice game making winners eligible for a grand prize.

The nation's Bicentennial year figures in several farm displays, from hats-off tributes to The American Farmer to red, white and blue forage blowers to Early American farming tools.

Several state organizations who keep a close eye on agriculture will also be in town or right at Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center during the farm show. So far, that list shows Kentucky Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association, Kentucky Livestock Improvement Association, Kentucky Agriculture Council, Producers' Livestock Association and American Forage and Grassland Council.



Tractors to pull for sellout crowds

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Clay R. Pollan

If your birthday occurs this week ..., you have an aggressive and adventurous spirit. You are likely to travel a good deal and hanker to see new scenes and meet new people. Your emotional and business stability develop in proportion to your training and daily practice.

Aries | Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 | Pluto

This is a fine period to harmonize your personal life and interests. If there have been any disagreements with friends, reestablish a new understanding and friendly relationships. Keep in touch with loved ones living afar. Entertain business and persons' acquaintances. Limit extravagant spending.

Taurus | Apr. 20 - May 20 | Venus

Watch yourself in all you do now, as current aspects can be very accidental. Be careful not to trip and fall; drive with care. Limit starting new ventures unless you're absolutely sure they're sound. Good time to make environs more attractive. Refrain from building your hopes too high.

Gemini | May 21 - June 20 | Mercury

Plan a trip with those you love. Even a short trip can bring a change of scene that'll refresh you. It's best not to raise important new questions with mate now. Agree to disagree for the time being. Don't spend too much in entertaining others when there's better use for money elsewhere.

Cancer | June 21 - July 22 | Moon

A week when the release of emotional feelings can be good for you. When you meet a new and loving friend, arrange a get-together for mutual pleasure. Harmonize relationships with mate, and draw closer together in loving understanding. Make tentative plans for scheduled vacation.

Leo | July 23 - Aug. 22 | Sun

This week's aspects advise caution regarding business and personal plans. If possible, defer action on any important business matter. Revise some personal plans and check important commitments you have recently made. Avoid a clash of personalities at your place of work.

Virgo | Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 | Mercury

Friendly aspects prevail for pleasure. You may accept invitations and plan to entertain good friends and business associates. Have no qualms about introducing new acquaintances into your circle. Mingle with people. A fascinating new hobby can become absorbing and delightful.

Libra | Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 | Venus

You have reached critical crossroads of fate. You may be tempted to make a change in your life-style or with some new venture. This could be a mistake, so it would be wiser to defer specific action. Give preference to invitations and entertainment involving your workmates.

Scorpio | Oct. 23 - Nov. 21 | Mars

More money is definitely in your picture and you may feel quite secure. This is all well and good as long as you do not spend unwisely on a friend. Collect what is due you by not mincing facts. Let no one think you are a pushover for generosity or for giving gifts to the undeserving.

Sagittarius | Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 | Jupiter

You can be quite bored with work and associates. Stick it out. There will be a change of climate soon. Take care of valuable possessions connected with your work. Don't sell something an associate wants to buy, and do not loan it either. Admit some selfishness in your own makeup.

Capricorn | Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 | Saturn

Keep your distance from someone who attracts you romantically. This could be a dangerous situation for your reputation. Don't play the other person's game until you learn more about it. Depend upon partners to keep their promises. Better be overoptimistic than to let gloom prevail.

Aquarius | Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 | Uranus

Mixed influences make this week half work, half fun. Household chores will go well, with cooperation of loved ones. A shopping spree would be fun, especially if right people are with you. Good time for planning, programming, plotting, overhauling, renovating. Use shortcuts.

Pisces | Feb. 19 - Mar. 20 | Neptune

Good aspects prevail. If anything goes wrong, blame only yourself. You profit through ideas of associates. Enhance your popularity. Cultivate new contacts. Cooperate in a worthy community project. Be independent without being arrogant. Alter your methods to match trends.

WHICH HOUSE HAS THE HIGHEST HEATING BILL?

Most people would readily guess the larger house costs more to heat. It might not. The size of a house is only one factor that determines its heating bill.

When your home is properly insulated your heating unit doesn't have to work as hard because less heat is lost through the walls and roof. This can save you one-third or more of your electricity costs.

And, with some electric heating systems you can adjust the temperature in each room. The bedrooms can stay a little cooler. The nursery and bath a little warmer. That can save energy and money.

The energy picture has changed dramatically in the past couple of years and people want all they can get for their heating dollar. Many are turning to electric comfort conditioning for summer and winter. We can help you plan your electric heating and cooling system, recommend proper insulation and give you a free operating cost estimate. Just contact our local office.
