Great American Happenings

From a Great America

1773: A tea party for a principle. Poor King George. He knows we're up in arms. He knows we're fed up with his taxes. But he just can't quite let go. He repeals every tax except a tiny one on tea...just to keep us in our place. We won't be kept there. We'll let his tea rot in the storehouses. And not even the King's Governor can make us receive the tea and sell it. He has the law on his side, but we have Samuel Adams. And Sam isn't afraid to start a little trouble. On December 16th, Sam and sixty townspeople put on the disguise of Mohawk Indians, board the tea ships, take our tomahawks to the chests of tea and dump it into Boston Harbor. Our "Boston Tea Party" is one to remember. ®

From a Great America

1773: The year the colonists stopped taking tea and started making trouble. We're tired of fattening British tills. Tired of paying taxes on everything from newspapers to playing cards. Tired of British control over our daily lives. Until the British stop taxing, we stop buying. They stop, but they don't remove one last finger from control of us. As a symbol of power the tea tax remains. And so does one Johnny Malcolm, British customs spy, tax official and tyrant. Now that we've enjoyed our Boston Tea Party, we think we'll throw one for old Johnny. We dress him up in tar and feathers and serve him a spot of tea. Enough to toast all eleven members of his beloved Royal Family. ®
