MAGICWORD

HOW TO PLAY: Read the list of words. Look at the puzzle. You'll find these words in all directions — horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backwards. Draw a circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle then strike it off list. Circling it will show a letter has been used but will leave it visible should it also form part of another word. Find the big words first. When letters of all listed words are circled, you'll have the given number of letters left over. They'll spell out your MAGICWORD.

WHO WAS THAT LADY?

Most of the Puritan settlers in the American colonies considered theatrical plays and other forms of leisure entertainment frivolous, even evil. But the publication of poetry was taken seriously. The first professional poet in New England was a woman, who out of modesty signed her works "a Gentlewoman of these parts." Anonymous poetess became most popular in the Northeastern settlement in the 1650s. Who was that lady?

The fathers were honored by the exchanging of "pot latches", an old Indian custom of the trading of treasured objects. Each girl made her father an Indian head band and presented it to him.

The theme for day camp was "Indian Summer" and was carried out by 61 girls participating in many camp skills and Indian crafts on the farm of Dr. Allan Hamon. Mrs. Bill Guthrie, Program Director, taught the girls such crafts as Indian pottery, sand painting, Indian headbands and necklaces. Every girl made the above items to take home and Mrs. Guthrie told many Indian legends.

Wednesday the camp met at Blue Licks State Park for "Fun Day" and a scavenger hunt for Indian relics. The story of Simon Kenton was told to the girls by Mrs. Guthrie.

There were six units in camp staffed by Scout leaders and helpers. The units selected Indian names for their camp. Mrs. Sue Kirby and Miss Cindy Jones were chiefs of the Navahoes, Brownie I. Mrs. Mike Buckner and Mrs. Faye McFarland were chiefs of the Cherokee, Brownie II; Mrs. Martha Sibert and Mrs. Kay Wills were chiefs of the Iroquois, Brownie III; Mrs. Leonora Moreland, chief of the Sioux, Junior I; Mrs. Doris Payne and Mrs. Phyllis Mitchell, chiefs of the Apachies, Junior II; and Mrs. Carolyn Mathes, chief of the Shawnee, Cadettes.

Early copy for the July 1 Bicentennial issue of The Carlisle Mercury would be greatly appreciated.
