Living alone

22.2 percent are one-person households. In the East South Central states, it is 17.7 percent and, in the State of Kentucky, 14.6 percent. Included in the singles category are unmarried people and those who have been divorced or widowed and have remained single since then. In the local area, based upon the findings, the number of one-person households has now reached an estimated 476, as compared with the 1960 total of 360. Although the high divorce rate has accentuated the number of men and women living alone, the big buildup has been among the young singles. There has been an increase of no less than 50 percent, between 1970 and 1975, in singles in the 25 to 34 age group, reports the Census Bureau.

44 Kentucky grocery stores lose right to accept stamps in '75

ATLANTA, Ga.—Because of violations, 44 Kentucky grocery stores were disqualified from the federal food stamp program during the year 1975, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) reports. "Considering the fact that there are 5,877 grocery stores in the state authorized to accept food stamps, it is obvious that the vast majority of Kentucky retail food dealers are complying with the food stamp regulations," observed Carl Horn, Kentucky district manager of the Food and Nutrition Service, at his office in Prestonsburg. Most of the disqualifications, Horn said, resulted from stores selling

Perkins testifies against tobacco tax

Congressman Carl D. Perkins has testified before a Senate subcommittee in a fight to prevent the Senate from passing a bill which would greatly increase the tax on tobacco products. Rep. Perkins told Senator Ted Kennedy, chairman of the subcommittee, "It is not right to single out small tobacco farmers for a special burden that they alone would have to carry," if the tax bill passed. The Kentucky Congressman said, "we must accept the fact that the small farmer either raises barley tobacco, or he goes out of farming and onto welfare." Rep. Perkins also pointed out that Kentucky farmers are spending millions of dollars each year in state programs to try to find out how to ensure that cigarettes can be made safer, so the farmers should not be forced to carry an extra tax burden. He said that many communities in Kentucky depend on agriculture to keep their economy going, and if small farmers are driven out of farming, their communities would suffer. Rep. Perkins urged the subcommittee to prevent the new tax from passing.

8600 aided in state by Easter Seal Society

LOUISVILLE—The Kentucky Easter Seal Society aided more than 8600 Kentuckians in 1975, 5925 of whom were children. Bert Combs, of Louisville, 1976 state Easter Seal campaign chairman, made the announcement.

According to Combs, these services for the handicapped were provided mainly at the society's seven facilities. Cardinal Hill Hospital, at Lexington, provided comprehensive rehabilitation services for 79 children and young adults. With the staff of 120, this center provides hospitalization, therapies and year round recreation programs. Camp Combs reported. Hearing and speech services offered at five of the society's facilities enrolled 1841 children and young adults in regular programs. Hearing screening tests were given to an additional 340 people. Hearing and speech services are provided at these Easter Seal centers: Hearing and Speech Center,

Camping and recreation programs served more than 1700 people last year. Because of the opening of its new and second resident camp, Camp Green Shores, the society provided camping opportunities to more people than ever. Combs said. The new camp is located at Rough River Lake in Breckinridge county. Camp Keyce at Carrollton, which opened in 1962, was visited by more than 1400 campers in 1975, he stated. Contributions to the annual Easter Seal campaign now under way, help finance the operation of these facilities and other programs, Combs reported. The 1976 campaign began March 1 and continues through April 18. Easter Sunday.
