$170,085 rural secondary funds for County roads

FRANKFORT—State Transportation Secretary John C. Roberts has announced that Nicholas county will receive $170,085 to support its 1976-77 program for rural secondary roads.

Similar allocations to other counties also are being announced locally. According to Roberts, the Nicholas county program for the fiscal year, beginning next July 1, will provide for maintenance along some 6.7 miles of local roads.

Specific improvement projects also included in that program are resurfacing of the following roads:

—5.5 miles of the Moorefield-East Union-KY 13 Road.
—3.2 miles of the Pleasant Spring Road.
The rural secondary road program was established under a 1964 law to help maintain and improve the farm-to-market and other essential rural roads. It is financed under a formula which provides that two cents of the tax collected on each gallon of motor fuels sold in Kentucky be set aside for allocation to support rural secondary road programs.

The allocations are announced once annually, on a fiscal-year basis.

FRANKFORT—"We've made a lot of progress in getting people to realize that they must get out of mobile homes during high winds and approaching tornadoes, but far too many people aren't getting their mobile homes properly anchored," said Robert McFerrin, deputy director of the state Division of Disaster and Emergency Services (DES), after reviewing reports of the severe winds that caused damage in 15 Kentucky counties March 29.

"Quite a few of the mobile homes that were totally destroyed could have been anchored properly."

3 City planning, zoning commissioners resign

Three members of the newly appointed City Planning and Zoning Commission resigned Monday night after Council voted 6-2 to permit R.P. Alexander to resign Oriole Street for a new subdivision of 44 houses. Oriole Street joins Catherine Street.

Vench Berry, chairman of the Commission, whose written resignation was later unanimously accepted by Council, stated that at the Wednesday Commission meeting it had been decided to ask the Bluegrass Area Development District to study the traffic situation to determine how many houses Alexander could build before overloading the access roads. He stressed that the Commission was not in favor of stopping the subdivision which he said was needed. He said that most of the 60 residents who signed a petition against opening the street had done so because of the overload condition not because they wanted the subdivision stopped.

The Commission is not presently empowered to act since no subdivision regulations, comprehensive plan, or zoning ordinances have been passed. This was to have been done at a meeting on May 26. This meeting has now been cancelled because of the resignations.

Councilman Clarence Cord, the Commission appointed to the Commission, also resigned, and Meri Evans later resigned by phone. The other members of the Planning Commission are S.H. Barlow and John Ring neither of whom were at the May meeting.

Berry's letter stated that the "lack of cooperation between City Council and the City Planning Board" was the reason for the resignation. He said there was no reason to stay on the board if Council would not back it up.

Councilmen voting to open the access roads: Charles Fay, Judge James Calvin Wills and Alex Crawford. Voting against the motion were Clarence Cord and Bob Paul.

Alexander stated that it will take about two and one-half years to complete the subdivision. He said he completed, he plans to install lighting streets, curb and guttering. He also said he plans to do this on Mockingbird Lane when he is finished

Anyone for froglegs? Saturday, May 15 midnight plus one minute is time

FRANKFORT—Anyone for froglegs? If so, it won't be long now till the sizzlers and other bullfrog "nummers" may take to the ponds and streams. If the frogger chooses to use a firearm or bow and arrow, a hunting license is required, if taken by pole and line, a fishing license is needed, and if by the use of a gig or hand, then either a fishing or hunting license is sufficient.

How to prepare the froglegs after you get them? Well, first thing, be sure to skin, clean and cook the frog, as well as the hind legs. The front ones aren't eaten, but the tails are just as good.

Next, salt and pepper, dip in your favorite batter and/or roll them in crumbs, then pan or deep fry. Either way—or almost any way—delicious is about the only way to describe them.

Wildlife regulations, the bullfrogs may also be taken by hand, and arrow, firearm or hook and line.

As for license requirements, if the frogger chooses to use a firearm or bow and arrow, a hunting license is required, if taken by pole and line, a fishing license is needed, and if by the use of a gig or hand, then either a fishing or hunting license is sufficient.
