Eastern's homecoming scheduled this weekend

RICHMOND—Football, fair femininity and food are the ingredients that make good homecoming festivity, and Eastern Kentucky University will have them all this weekend.

These, plus the spice of music, dancing and parading, are calculated to bring the old grads (and the new ones) back to the campus by the hundreds Friday and Saturday, Oct. 29-30.

J.W. (Spider) Thurman, director of alumni affairs, announced that homecoming officially starts at Eastern with a dance Friday at 9 p.m. in the Keen Johnson Ballroom. During the festivity the 15 candidates for homecoming queen will be introduced and dance to the tunes of Greenlyte Sunday.

The winning candidate will be crowned as queen the next day at Hanger Field just before the EKU Colonels meet Murray State University at 2 p.m. in a traditional football rivalry.

Thurman said registration of visiting alumni will begin Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Keen Johnson Building.

At 10 Saturday morning, the long homecoming parade will begin its march down Lancaster Avenue to downtown Richmond.

The alumni will chew and chat at the homecoming buffet luncheon Saturday at 11:30 a.m. in the Keen Johnson ballroom and at reunion luncheons for the classes of 1966 and 1971 and the members of the 1967 Rice Bowl championship football team, in the Powell Building.

After the football game, the alumni will gather at a reception in the Herndon Lounge in the Powell Building for punch and post-game quarterbacking.

Homecoming will conclude with a pop concert by Bacon, Potter and Galbraith at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Alumni Coliseum.

Mrs. Butler Johnson of the Myers Road brought this door knob and collection of old coins into the Mercury office recently. Local Masons should be particularly interested in two of the items: the door knob with Masonic emblem in the upper right and a commemorative coin [lower right] from Dougherty Lodge No. 65 F&AM dated Aug. 18, 1920. Mr. Johnson found the door knob about two years ago while he was doing some bulldozing on their property. The 1839 one cent piece [on left] belonged to Mrs. Johnson's father, the late Everett Holbrook.—Duncan photo

Another accident on hospital bridge

The Nicholas County Sheriff's office investigated two minor automobile accidents the past week and state trooper John Hall investigated one.

J.W. Ecton, Nicholas County Deputy Sheriff, said that vehicles being driven by Thelma J. Shaw of Mockingbird Lane and Etta J. Mitchell of Owingsville collided at about 3 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 22. The autos hit head on when both attempted at the same time to cross the bridge on the Moorefield Road near the hospital, he said. Neither driver suffered any injuries in the mishap according to Ecton. This was the second mishap this month to occur on the bridge.

Autos driven by Ester Harding and Elgin Ring, both of Nicholas county, suffered only slight damage when they collided on Route 68 near Ellisville at about 11 a.m. Sunday morning. Both drivers escaped injury in the mishap, Nicholas County Sheriff, Reese Smoot said.

According to Carlisle Police Chief, Allen Earlywine, an accident that occurred near Evans Big Tee Burger at about 7 p.m. Sunday was investigated by Kentucky State Trooper, John Hall. However, Trooper Hall was out of town on Monday and Tuesday so details were not available.
