Wool payments here $200.33

Sheep growers will get about $7 million in federal "incentive payments" on their 1976 marketings of wool, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

This compares with $41 million in payments made for 1975 marketings.

Payments of $200.33 were earned in Nicholas county by 18 wool producers. Payment checks will be mailed from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Kind, Hurley, Type 31, 1977 crop 117.3, 1976 crop 189.3; Kentucky Tennessee Fine-Carled Types, 1977 crop 78.3, 1976 crop 74.1; Dark Air-Cured, Type 26, 36, 1977 crop 79.7, 1976 crop 65.5.

Current legislation requires that price support be made available for those kinds of tobacco for which producers have approved marketing quotas. The law requires that the levels of support of those kind of tobacco be determined by first calculating the ratio (1.06) of the average index of prices for 1966. This ratio is then multiplied by the 1966 support level for each kind of tobacco to determine the 1977 support level. In 1976, support prices were 181 percent of the 1966 prices; for 1977, support prices are 200 percent of 1966.

USDA also announced it is evaluating all aspects of the tobacco program and invited the public to assist in the evaluation through written comment. Comments must be received by the Department no later than May 20.

Lack of educational blueprint costing dollars Governor tells task force

FRANKFORT—A lack of an educational blueprint for Kentucky education is costing more tax dollars than charging into the state, Gov. Julian Carroll said recently at a meeting of his Task Force on Education.

During a meeting of the group's steering committee, the governor estimated the state's tax money probably could be spread twice as far as it is now in education with less duplication being spent on those programs," according to Carroll.

"We can create new dollars for reorganization for sound educational programs that are now being inefficiently spent) or by duplication being spent on those programs," according to Carroll.

The governor appointed the task force earlier this year to look at all levels of education in the state and make recommendations on improvements to the 17th General Assembly. The recent meeting of the group's 40-member steering committee was the first for the task force, although the staff has been at work since February.

Don Stephens of Lexington, who resigned as state representative to accept Carroll's appointment, is executive director of the task force.

At the luncheon meeting at the Governor's Mansion, Stephens named chairman and vice-chairmen of 23 subcommittees recommended to tackle subject areas in education. Steering committee members will study the proposed topics, then recommend which to retain and what topics to add.

Stephens plans to meet in April with subcommittee heads and members to further acquaint them with study areas.

Besides subcommittee recommendations, suggestions on improving Kentucky's educational system will come from delegates to a fall conference scheduled in Lexington.

Clean-up kits distributed to flood victims

American Red Cross disaster workers recently passed out thousands of clean-up kits door-to-door in the Pineville area and flood ravaged communities in remote parts of Bell county, a spokesman reported recently.

Red Cross vehicles manned by uniformed volunteers distributed brooms, mops, buckets, scrub-brushes, cleansers, detergents and disinfectants to flood victims free of charge, according to Ted Cox, a Red Cross mass care official from Chattanooga who is assigned to this county. "We've found that people go through these things pretty quickly, getting the broom and grime out of their homes," Cox said.

A total of 75 Red Cross disaster volunteers are involved in the distribution effort, Cox said, one-third of whom are going from door to door at any given time. Three thousand clean-up kits have been distributed so far, and the Red Cross expects to pass out another 2000 in the next three days.

Tobacco price support levels announced

Among other items, USDA is considering continuing to make price support available through loans to producer associations.

Written comments should be submitted to the Director, Tobacco and Peanut Division, USDA-ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013. Comments received will be made available for public inspection during regular business hours at the office of the director, Room 2750, of USDA's South Building.

Price support programs are administered by ASCS through contracts with producer associations.

Vote for Wilson Palmer

Democratic Primary
May 24, 1977

Slate Senator, 30th District

THINK ABOUT EDUCATION!

Wilson Palmer will work to provide free text books for all students in all grades, and to abolish all fees that are directly related to students' instructional needs.

Wilson believes we must equip students with the skills needed by the job market. His goal is to make high caliber vocational education available in every county in the 30th District. He will work to complete and equip all vocational facilities now approved for construction.

He also will work to establish public kindergartens. 7,200 first graders failed last year, costing school systems $6,200,000. Kindergartens would have helped us avoid much of that cost and unhappiness.

Wilson will support a program to raise teacher salaries to the level of the seven states that surround us.

Vote for Wilson Palmer, an experienced and energetic leader who knows how to get a job done.
