$40,000 houseboat donated to MSU Alumni Association

MOREHEAD—A 54-foot houseboat, valued at more than $40,000, has been donated to the Morehead State University Alumni Association, it was announced recently.

MSU President Norris L. Norfleet said the gift from Delbert Burchett of Grayson provides the University with "a splendid connection with Cave Run Lake" where the 1976-model craft is docked.

"Mr. Burchett's generosity will make it possible for the Alumni Association to sponsor more summer activities for our graduates and also will help promote tourism in the Morehead region," Dr. Norfleet said.

He added that the boat would be supervised by the Office of Alumni Relations and that operating costs would be borne by the Alumni Association through special gifts and other external funds.

"No state funds will be involved," Dr. Norfleet stated.

The houseboat was accepted from Burchett at the request of the Alumni Executive Council and with approval of the MSU Board of Regents, according to Alumni Director Don Young.

"We are appointing a special committee to determine when and how the boat is utilized," Young said.

He said several local and regional development groups would be offered use of the boat, including the Morehead Chamber of Commerce, Gateway Area Development District, Morehead-Rowan County Industrial Foundation, Cave Run Development Associat' · Kentucky Highlands Association and the tourism division of the Kentucky Department of Public Information.

"We feel the boat can be a tremendous asset in promoting recreational opportunities in this area," Young added.

Marvin Rammelsberg of Cincinnati, president of the MSU Alumni Association, said the boat had been named the "MSU Alumni Flying Eagle" and that it would be "a super addition" to MSU's alumni programs.

"This gift has great potential as a means of attracting alumni back to the campus and in showing outsiders the beauty of Cave Run Lake," he said.

Rammelsberg said the boat was one of the most popular items during a recent alumni weekend when it was used in a "trial run" on the lake.

"We are very excited about the prospects of additional alumni activities which will utilize this beautiful vessel," he added.

Chandler named to UK Board

FRANKFORT—Governor Julian Carroll has named former Gov. A.B. (Happy) Chandler to a four-year term as a member of the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees.

Chandler replaces John R. Crockett, Louisville, whose term has expired. Chandler's term will expire June 30, 1981.

Kentucky afield

by John Wilson

Conditions in Kentucky are looking pretty good for the Sept. 1 opening of the dove season, a check with wildlife officials around the commonwealth reveals.

In the central part of the state, several areas look good bright now, according to Jim Durell, assistant director of the game management division of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. A new public hunting area in Nicholas county, the 4,774 acre Clay Wildlife Management Area should have a good dove shoot opening day, Jim says. Wildlife food plots have been planted here and doves are using the area. This wildlife area is eight miles northeast of Carlisle off KY 32. Others are the Central Kentucky Wildlife Management Area (Madison county), the Lloyd WMA (Grant county), the Mullins WMA (Kenton county) and the Twin Eagle WMA (Owen county).

In Western Kentucky, some areas which almost always have good shots are the Ballard County WMA, the West Kentucky WMA (McCracken county) the Sloughs WMA (Henderson county) and Higginson-Henry WMA (Union county).

Hunters in the Breckinridge county area might want to scout the Yellowbank Wildlife Management Area. This is a fairly new public hunting area, but one which should offer some good dove shooting this year, Jim says.

Jim warns, however, that conditions on any of these areas could change by opening day. Doves can be unpredictable critters, sometimes coming into or abandoning a field for no apparent reason. So Jim wants hunters to know that his predictions are subject to change and are dependent upon the whims of the doves themselves.

There are a few changes in the dove regulations in Kentucky this year. The season opens Sept. 1 and runs through Oct. 31, with the second phase of the split season from Dec. 10 through Dec. 18. The limits remain at 12 daily and 24 in possession after two or more days of hunting.

Also remember that the hours for dove hunting are from noon until one-half hour before sunset, prevailing time; that shotguns must be plugged to hold no more than three shells (one in the chamber and two in the magazine) and that it is illegal to shoot over a "baited" field, that is, one where feed or salt has been scattered as a result of anything other than a valid agricultural practice.

For a current listing of Kentucky public hunting areas or for a complete rundown of dove hunting regulations, write the Division of Public Relations, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Child Loose in Car Can End up Killed

"Safe as in your mother's arms" isn't all that safe, not for the baby or small child riding in a car.

It takes a heavily-padded sturdy car seat, well-anchored, to give the protection needed against sudden stops and accidents.

It all happens too fast for a mother or anybody else to keep a child from being flung forward into the dashboard or right out of the car, says Extension engineers with the UK College of Agriculture.

If a baby is under a seat belt with a grown-up or older child, the jolt or impact could cause injury from the belt itself, with the other person's weight behind it. A baby is far safer restrained by wide padded straps and riding backwards in a car seat, the engineers explain. The seat should be anchored to the car with a regular seat belt.

A toddler can use the same car seat facing forward. An older child can graduate to a bigger car seat, and Millersburg Military Institute has appointed six new faculty members to its staff for the 1977-1978 academic year beginning on Sept. 6. They will join 10 returning faculty members for the school's 85th year.

Mrs. William R. Stamler, of Paris, will teach Chemistry and Biology. Holder of BS and MS degrees from the University of Tennessee, Mrs. Stamler has taught Chemistry, Biology, and Mathematics in Arkansas and Nashville, Tenn. schools and for the past several years at Paris High School.

Adolph Rupp Jr., of Lexington, will teach history. He earned his BA degree from the University of Kentucky and has taught History in public high schools in Louisville, Lexington, Shelbyville, and most recently at the Sayre School in Lexington.

Lieutenant Colonel Robert L. Baggett, US Marine Corps (Retired), of Bourbon county, will serve as Commandant of Cadets, Athletic Director of the Middle School and English teacher. He holds a BA Degree from Western Kentucky State College and formerly taught in Pennsylvania and at Lafayette High School in Lexington.

Jeffrey Wendling of Mayslick has joined the MMI staff as Assistant for the Middle School, Teacher, Dormitory Master of the Middle School, and Athletic Coach. He earned a BA degree from Morehead State University and formerly taught at the Mayslick Elementary School in Mason county.

James Arthur Kent of Warsaw, Ohio, has been appointed Band Master and Music Teacher. He holds a BME from Eastern Kentucky University. He will reside on campus and serve as assistant dormitory master for the High School.

Robert Hart of Paris has joined the MMI staff as Social Studies teacher, head Football coach, JV Basketball coach and serve as assistant to his brother Cary, head Basketball coach. He attended the University of Kentucky and earned his BA degree at Tranaylvania University.

MMI appoints new teachers for school year

Reunions to be held

Ring and Shields

The Ring and Shields family reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Estill Sexton on the Carpenter Road, Sunday, Sept. 4.

Paul Boyd and Rick Creager from Ohio will be playing and singing for the reunion.

A potluck dinner will be served at the noon hour. All relatives and their friends are invited.

Bussell and Gray

The Bussell and Gray reunion will be held on Aug. 28 at Blue Licks State Park. Basket lunch served at noon. All relatives and friends are invited.

George

The annual George reunion will be held Sunday, Aug. 28 at Blue Licks State Park. All friends and relatives are invited to attend and bring a basket lunch to be served at noon.

padded straps, and some type of anchor that restricts forward movement of the seat during sudden stops. A two-position model is handy because you can adjust it for a sleeping baby.

You should be able to find a reliable car seat for between $18 and $40. If that sounds like too much, check the yard sales of the classified section of your newspaper. A second-hand car seat in good condition can serve you just as well as a new one.

Federal standards demand that any child restraint system manufactured on or after April 1, 1971 meet the following requirements:

It must fasten in place with the car's seat belt and give protection from both front and rear crashes. All straps must be at least one-and-a-half inches wide. (To restrain as much of the body as possible, get a seat with the widest straps that are still comfortable for the child).

New or second-hand, select a car seat that gives real protection, then be sure to install it correctly.

Foil the statistics that tell us babies and young children are the most vulnerable passengers when a car stops suddenly or crashes.

Clean Non-Stick Pans with Soda Bleach Boil

"Abrasive cleaners can destroy the non-stick finish on your pots and pans, so take care."

Try this homemade solution for removing the stains on those coated utensils:

Place a mixture of 1 cup of water, 3 tablespoons baking soda and ¼ cup liquid chlorine bleach in the pan to be cleaned. Boil this solution for 5-10 minutes or until the stain disappears. Then wash the pan in hot sudsy water and wipe lightly with cooking oil.

Also be careful not to scritch the finish. Use only wooden or plastic utensils. It's too easy to cause damage with a conventional metal spatula or spoon.
