Hospital application tabled

The East Kentucky Health Systems Agency last week tabled the Nicholas County Hospital application for its Certificate of Need because of two criteria which the agency is questioning.

According to Hospital Administrator Ken Urloge the two criteria are: cost effectiveness—$2.3 million divided by 32 beds equals $71,900 (most are $39-65,000) and projected cost per patient of $108 is too low; utilization—occupancy at local hospital has been member of the Senate's Health and Welfare Committee during his three years in the Senate and serves as vice chairman of the Senate Education Committee, a position he held since 1974.

"Tom Ward will work closely under new Human Resources Department Secretary Peter Conn in helping the Task Force in an effective inquiry," Gov. Julian Carrill said. "I have said before that 90 cents of every Kentucky dollar is spent in Human Resources and Education... just two governmental areas, but the two most important areas in terms of human needs and services. I am determined that we have no show untarned to assure those who pay the bill, the Kentucky taxpayer, that our annual Human Resources expenditures of $1.6 billion dollars gets the utmost value possible, and to assure those who need the service that its delivery will be on time and in the amount due them."

Outlook for 1977 burley tobacco is good; national quota is unchanged

A favorable outlook for burley tobacco is reflected in the accord over 1977 quota recommendations, reached at a meeting held Friday, Jan. 14 in Lexington. Conferees agreed that the national quota be left unchanged for the coming crop year.

Besides 1977 production the hearing involved other phases of burley's long-term program, including domestic and overseas use, loan stocks, exports, and competition from foreign growers.

Reports of the discussions will be studied by the USDA, and amount of the quota announced from Washington by Feb. 1.

Some 20 or more reports were given at the quota hearing, all calling for an increase in 1977. Represented were all eight burley states, several manufacturers, warehouses, farm organizations, and state and Federal agricultural departments.

Motorists warned not to mix radial and snow tires

FRANKFORT—The Kentucky Department of Transportation has issued a consumer safety advisory urging motorists not to mix radial tires with snow tires, unless the snow tires are also of radial construction.

"Driving conditions are poor in all sections of the state," Roberts said, and "making sure that your tires are right for these conditions is very important."

The Department's Office of Highway Safety Programs gives these tips for motorists who buy winter tires.

—Never mix bias or belted-bias construction tires with radials, because handling of the car will be changed dangerously if your car is equipped with radial tires and you want to use snow tread, you should buy radially constructed snow tires.

—Snow tires should be inflated to the same pressure as recommended for conventional tires by the car owner's manual. Lower pressure does not increase traction, and excessive heat buildup from underinflation may damage your tires.

—Changing weather changes tire inflation pressure. Tires lose about one pound of air pressure for every 10-degree drop in temperature. Always check for proper tire inflation pressure before driving. The best time to check

David J. Williams, president of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, cited present stocks as "not excessive." He said, "Two and three-quarters years supply of burley is, and has long been, regarded as the desirable level."

"Using the supply-disappearance figures in the December 1976 issue of 'Tobacco Statistics' the USDA publication, it appears that the carryover of burley tobacco was 1,067.4 million pounds and the estimated total disappearance 1,028.0 domestic and 100.0 exports) is 1,167.4 million pounds. The total supply therefore is 1,234.4 million pounds, or 2.796 years.

"The supply not being excessive, it is the feeling of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association that the burley quota for the 1976-77 marketing year should remain the same as the quota for 1975-76."

Alvin R. Beckley, executive secretary-treasurer of the Association, announced stocks on hand as 21,399,420 pounds (54,165 hogheads), from the 1974 and 1975 crops. Of this, 18% of the 1974 crop has been sold, and 22% of the 1975 crop. A total of 21,156,152 pounds has been taken under loan from the 1976-77 marketing, or 4.83% of total sales of 389,600,664 pounds.

—In Kentucky studded tires (tires with studs, usually car-side-tipped, imbedded in the tread to help increase traction) are legal year-round. In some other states, their use is restricted to certain periods of time. In still other states, such as Florida, Hawaii, Illinois, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi and Wisconsin, they are outlawed completely.

Volunteer firemen are liable

FRANKFORT—Volunteer firemen may be held personally liable if they are involved in an accident on the way to a fire, but the city has no liability according to an opinion from the Office of the Attorney General.

The opinion, issued by Thomas R. Emerson, assistant attorney general, was in answer to a question from Wayne Gannell, a city councilman in Eminence.

Gannell had asked whether the city of Eminence could be held responsible or held if a volunteer member of the fire department had an accident in his own car while responding to a fire and were found to be at fault.

Emerson noted that both volunteer and paid city fire department employees are liable and may be sued for negligence resulting in injury to persons or property or in death. However, he wrote, the city is liable only if a fire department employee is involved.

EMERGENCY NOTICE

We Have To Save Gas — Beginning NOW!

We are now operating in a penalty stage. We don't want anyone to be unemployed so let's all do our part.

1. Keep All Thermostats Below 68.
2. Keep Doors Closed. Check Storm Doors and Windows.
3. Keep Clean Filters in Heating System.
4. Check Flame Adjustment.
5. Keep Air Vents on Heating System Free Of Dust And Dirt.
6. Keep Hot Water Heaters on NORMAL or Lower Settings.
7. Check Your Range Burners For Adjustment.
8. Use Stand-by Fuels when you can.

— NOTICE —

When you get your next gas bill don't feel as if saving hasn't helped. Your bill will probably be high due to the gas raise and due to the time your meters were read, but if you are saving now your next bill then should be much lower, and you have helped yourself and your community. Working together we can accomplish anything.

Thanks for helping.
