Additional Nicholas countians announce candidacy for offices

Several additional Nicholas countians announced their candidacy for county offices this week. They are: Joseph H. (Jack) Conley, attorney with the law firm of Conley & Conley Attorneys announced Friday that he will be a candidate for re-election as the Democratic nominee for County Attorney of Nicholas county. He will be seeking his second term.

Conley has been very active in civic affairs locally. He presently represents Nicholas county on the Bluegrass Area Development District's Crime Council, he is treasurer of the Nicholas County Democratic Executive Committee, charter director and vice-president of the Nicholas County Historical Society, treasurer of the Blue Licks Commemorative Commission, legal counsel for the Carlisle-Nicholas County Housing Commission, and represents the Fiscal Court on the Hospital Board. As County Attorney he has been active in the Courthouse renovation, the new hospital building program, and the Henryville community development program. He was recently appointed by Governor Julian Carroll to his Economic Development Commission.

This year he was honored by the Carlisle Jaycees with a life-long membership and with the highest honor available to a former Jaycee—U.S. Jaycee Ambassador. Conley is only the 11st in the nation to receive this honor, given for his many contributions to the Jaycee movement. A past Jaycee local president and state chairman, he has been awarded many other honors by the Jaycees, including Outstanding State Chairman, Jaycees of the Year, and Outstanding Young Man.

A former president of the Carlisle-Nicholas County Chamber of Commerce, Conley served as coordinator of Nicholas County's Bicentennial celebrations. He also served as president of the Carlisle High School Alumni Association twice, and president of the Nicholas County Elementary PTA. He was commissioned a Kentucky Colonel in 1976.

He is a graduate of Carlisle High School, the University of Kentucky where he was president of Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity, and Schurz P. Chase Law School in Cincinnati. He served with the U.S. Army and the Kentucky and Ohio National Guards for six years.

Conley who was City Attorney for four years before his election as County Attorney, was admitted to the Ohio Bar in 1965 and the Kentucky Bar Association in 1966.

He is married to the former Joann Weisinger who is the editor of the Carlisle Mercury and compiler of the History of Nicholas County. They have three children, Mike, Kay and Meg. They live on Locust Street in Carlisle and are members of the Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church, where Conley is a past chairman of the Parish Council and Sunday School teacher. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Conley of Carlisle.

Mrs. Spears (Shirley) Collins Jr. has filed as a candidate for election as Magistrate of the 1st District of Nicholas county subject to the May 24 Primary.

She is a graduate of Nicholas county, Mrs. Collins is the daughter of Earl and Helen Shannon Hamm. She attended Nicholas county schools and is a member of the Headquarters United Methodist Church.

The Collins have lived, the past 15 years, in the Headquarters community where they farm in addition to full-time jobs. Mrs. Collins is secretary for Title I of Education. Her husband is an employee of IBM in Lexington. They are the parents of a daughter, Sandy Collins, 18, who attends Mayvive Community College and lives at home.

According to Miss Rose Scott, Nicholas County Clerk, Mrs. Collins is the first woman to file for election for Magistrate in Nicholas county. Although Mrs. Joe Sapp now serves as Magistrate, she was appointed after the death of her husband to finish his unexpired term.

Clarence Moss announced last week that due to the Nicholas County Fiscal Court's recent approval of the hiring of a second deputy sheriff, he has chosen Tom Fryman of the Rose Hill community to serve as deputy along with Charles Ring, subject to the May 24 Primary Election.

Melvin Fryman has filed for candidate for election for Magistrate of the 2nd District of Nicholas county, subject to the May 24 Primary.

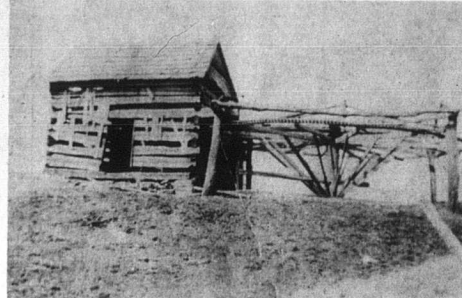

A native of Nicholas county, he is the son of the late Mart Fryman and Mrs. Lena Livingood Fryman Berry. He has lived in the Hartsville community for over 30 years. He worked with the Nicholas County Road Department for 18 years as bulldozer and grader operator. At the present time he is working with heavy equipment for Clifton Waight of Carlisle. He has been a farmer for the past 20 years and has had crops in and around Nicholas county.

Fryman attends the Clintonville Nazarene Church of Paris. He lives on the Saltwell Road with his wife, Mrs. Leola Ritchie Fryman. They have one daughter, Mrs. Ruben Bostit who lives in Bourbon county.

Larry Paul Trussell filed Monday for candidate for election for Nicholas County Property Valuation Administrator.

A native of Nicholas county, he is the son of Robert T. and Leona George Trussell. He graduated from Nicholas County High School in 1971. Trussell earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Health from Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, in December, 1976. He has a minor in History and lacks about three hours, he said, to earn a minor in Business. He just recently passed the state Property Valuation Administrator's examination.

A member of the Myers Christian Church, Trussell is District Health Inspector in Nicholas county for the WEDCO District Health Department. He and his wife, the former Shirley McDonald, reside on the Moorefield Road with their four-year-old daughter, Susan Dawn.

Old time way

This grist mill at Barterville was pulled by horse, and operated in the early 1900's according to Walker Gaunce who will be 95 years old March 15. He said it was owned by Willis Suggs and could be reached by turning right by the old Barterville School onto a lane and it was back on a ridge. It was also accessible by turning from the Saltwell-Barterville Road at the old Hick Taylor farm. Photo courtesy of Mrs. B.A. Ritchie, Millersburg.

Natural gas main heat for new hospital, oil to be back up fuel

The Nicholas County Fiscal Court decided at its meeting held Wednesday, March 2, that gas, if it is available, will be the main heating source at the new hospital. Oil will be used as a back-up fuel for the city to install a four-inch gas line for a distance of about one mile in the direction of the new hospital to allow for adequate gas was explained to the Fiscal Court by Gayle Vandandingham, Carlisle City Supervisor. The Fiscal Court agreed to share part of the cost of the line, although cost figures were not available at that time. City Councilmen Bob Faul, Clarence Cord, Alex Crawford and Julian Green were present for discussion concerning the gas line. In other business the court: —Changed the next scheduled meeting from March 18 to Thursday, March 17 at 7 p.m. —Leased the 1977 crop of tobacco at the County Farm to Paul and Lather Tischer for 30 cents per pound. —Obligated itself to match federal funds for a senior citizen's program in Nicholas county. The amount is not to exceed $1,000. (The City Council also needs to approve this as the program calls for 10% matching funds from the city-county governments.) —Approved and ordered filed the settlement for the Sheriff's office for the year 1976. —Authorized the hiring of a second deputy being paid out of revenue from the Sheriff's office. Kenneth Knapke appeared before the court to offer his services as a consultant for the Type II and Type III equipment for the new hospital. No action was taken on the matter.

Ministerial Association to sponsor mobile blood drawing Monday, March 21

The Nicholas County Ministerial Association will sponsor a mobile blood drawing at the First Baptist Church on Monday, March 21, between the hours of 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Each year, Nicholas county residents are transfused over 200 pints of blood in either the Nicholas County Hospital, the hospitals in Lexington or other hospitals. The blood that is transfused can only come from one source—willing blood donors.

The Central Kentucky Blood Center, which is the Regional Blood Center for Nicholas county, provides an average of 120 pints of blood a day to 33 hospitals in a 40 county area. But that blood can only be available in the amount that it is given. Because of the recent winter, the regular volunteers have not been able to donate, so blood, like fuel, is in short supply.

The blood that is being transfused today came from a volunteer donor yesterday. The Nicholas County Ministerial Association is asking that anyone who is between the ages of 18 and 66 and in good health, call Rev. H. Dallas Sugg at 288-2602 or 288-2628 or Rev. Herman Kamlage at 288-2602 and volunteer to donate so that blood will be available tomorrow.

Last October, donors were turned away because there were not enough technicians here to take the blood in the time allotted. This time, a double crew has been requested. "We need eight people every 15 minutes in order to keep the double crew busy," Rev. Sugg stated. Eight persons in Nicholas county will be calling all of the prospective blood donors during this week.

If you are a member of the donor's club, and you cannot personally give blood 11 day responsibility to get someone to substitute for you. Co-chairmen Sugg and Kamlage are also looking for persons who have not donated previously and are not members of the local donor's club.
