Few engraved items stolen

FRANKFORT-Few of the goods secret by thieves at the Super Dollar store looting operation, run by Jefferson County Police and Federal agents, were marked under the state's Operation Identification program, Justice Secretary John I. Smith has said.
Smith said he contacted Jefferson County Police Chief Russell McDonald to see how many of the finest goods contained the identifying Operation Identification markings and found that very few were engraved.
The Justice secretary said this further convinces him that operation identification helps not burglary. "This is further proof that houses displaying Crime Check stickers showing that the valuables in the home have been marked are being bypassed by thieves," Mr. Smith said.
"With the Operation Identification markings on them, valuables are just hard to fence. Most burglars are looking to get rid of the stolen merchandise quickly. If they have to spend time trying to get rid of the Operation Identification marking,

Education week set Nov. 13-19

FRANKFORT-At the request of the Kentucky Education Association Governor Julian Carroll has proclaimed Nov. 13-19 as American Education Week in the state.
This year's theme for the annual observance is "Working Together for Education."
American Education Week, held every year since 1921, seeks to encourage local citizen support and active participation in the improvement of education in the state.
This year the program will stress the joint efforts of teachers, students, and parents to increase educational awareness in their community.
Components of the nationwide event are the National Education Association, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, The American Legion, and the U. S. Office of Education.
KEA president Wayne Harvey said local education associations affiliated with KEA have been urged to plan special events and programs to celebrate American Education Week.
In his proclamation, Gov. Carroll says the schools "represent the best efforts

In REMEMBRANCE OF MY MOTHER (Mrs. Robert Hatten)
Her face was like an Angel Her hair was beauty made
She was my true Mother Who meant more than Silver or Gold.

ANALOGY OF ROSE
The life of man might be compared To the blooming of a rose.
Blooming out and then fading From a bud that's tightly closed.

I have a very dear friend His name is Jim
A friend who came into my life And stays closer than a brother.
One day I saw him with a woman Who was more than Silver or Gold.

A newborn baby is just the bud From which the rose will bloom.
And unless it's given food and love, It will meet an early doom.

She lays aside a flower garden As if it were the only love.
That's why I picked her love It was the best I could do.

The petals start to open To the sun and gentle breeze.
But petals soon begin to fall As a man's life begins to fade.

When I am discouraged And things may look dark I just take it to my friend
For he can forgive me of my mistakes And every burden he can share.

With the best of God above, The rose continues to blossom.
As a child does in the youth, Forming into a beautiful flower.

Yes, this friend is my dear friend Let him be your dear friend
He'll guide you on your way Until your journey's end.

As the minutes in a rose's life, So are the minutes of our lives.
Facing many days and stormy days And trials on every hand.

To be a child of this friend Means more than wealth or fame
Do you know his name? Yes, this friend is my dear friend
Let him be your dear friend He'll guide you on your way

As the minutes in a rose's life, So are the minutes of our lives.
Facing many days and stormy days And trials on every hand.

Yes, this friend is my dear friend Let him be your dear friend
He'll guide you on your way Until your journey's end.

As the minutes in a rose's life, So are the minutes of our lives.

OUR COUNTRY CHURCH - MT. TABOR
A place to shed my tears
It wouldn't be a tree that grows in the spring
For the birds to build their nest
And while it stands in spring
I wouldn't be a genie in a bottle, kept tight
I wouldn't be a tree that grows in the spring
For the birds to build their nest
And while it stands in spring
I wouldn't want to be someone who just thought of myself
For a beautiful bird to nest
And while it stands in spring
I wouldn't be a king's daughter sitting on a throne
To have all the riches made
When they're right or wrong
This is what I'd like to be
A fairy with a wand
To fly over all the world
And give people what they want
To make everyone happy
And smiling don't you see
I'd like to be a fairy
That's what I'd like to be
Pansy Robinson
IT'S A GIRL
It's a girl! I heard the Doctor say
And my heart was so glad
That's what I'd like to be
And my heart was so glad
That's what I'd like to be
SCHOOLS NOW - AND THEN
A mile to school was used to walk
Upon the blackboard with a piece of chalk
Carried our lunch in a bucket or box
Had measles, mumps and chickenpox.
The bell rang, time to play
Maybe we'd have a ballgame today
Play with a gang of bad boys
The small fry sorta looked like today
Our water came from a well in the yard
The bathroom seats were cold and hard
You minded the teacher, no questions asked
Here she was taller with her dainty
Studied reading, writing and arithmetic
Got them, or else you might get the stick
Brought in from the limb of a tree
The sight of it was enough for me
"THE END."
THE SILVER YEARS
The chance to wish you joy today
Is just how good to me
Because there's no occasion
That's more wonderful than this
NOT ON SUNDAY NIGHT
I love the Church that Jesus brought
I know that it's right I go there
On Sunday morning,
But not on Sunday night.
I love to sing the songs of God,
Which surely must be right.
I do on Sunday morning,
But not on Sunday night.
I love to hear the preacher too,
And give them power and might.
But not on Sunday night.
I wouldn't be there on Sunday night.
I love to hear the gospel too.
It gives me pure delight to hear it
On Sunday morning,
But not on Sunday night.
I love to hear the songs of God,
Which surely must be right.
