Arrow
America's Shirtmaker
The revolutionary invention based on a simple idea. Because the human neck is one inch larger at the bottom than at the top, Arrow designed the Custom Collar to be one inch larger at the bottom than at the top. [Regular collars are the same size top and bottom.]
Then a "V"-shaped opening was incorporated into the front of the collar. This shaped the collar from peeking over the top of the tie.
The result is a collar that adjusts to fit each man's neck. And looks like it came from the best custom tailor in town.
$17 to $20. From Arrow, America's Shirtmaker.
