Farm operating loans available

William E. Burnette, State Director for the Farmers Home Administration, has announced that funds are available through this agency to finance the farm operating type needs of the Kentucky farmer.

He states that Congress has recognized the cost-price squeeze which the farmers are experiencing and it has allocated sufficient operating type funds to meet the needs of those who qualify. At present the Farmers Home Administration still has 18.5 million dollars of these funds and Mr. Burnette has advised the county offices to react as quickly as possible to applications received.

To be eligible for this type of assistance, an applicant must: (1) Have farm experience or training and possess the character, industry, and ability to carry out the operation.

(2) Manage and operate the farm and nonfarm enterprise. Labor must be furnished primarily by the operator and his immediate family, except during seasonal peak-load periods.

(3) Be unable to obtain sufficient credit elsewhere at reasonable rates and terms.

(4) Be a citizen of the United States of legal age.

(5) Be an owner or tenant operating a family farm.

Applicants may apply at the local Farmers Home Administration office

Charitable rates to be eliminated

FRANKFORT — The Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) has authorized South Central Bell Telephone Co. to eliminate its special rates now given to charitable institutions, churches and clergymen.

The PSC ruling does not eliminate concession rates for South Central Bell employees.

The decision follows a Feb. 27 public hearing at which no protests were filed.

The PSC noted that withdrawal of concession rates "is in the best interest of all South Central customers".

REPORTS TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY

VOTE ON FARM BILL DISAPPOINTING

It is always disappointing to work hard on legislation you feel is necessary and worthy, only to have it fail in the end. A perfect case was the emergency farm bill which was turned down by the House of Representatives after being passed by the Senate.

Once the farm crisis emerged in the form of the American Agricultural Movement, the Senate Agriculture Committee – of which I am a member – began a series of extensive hearings. As chairman of the subcommittee on production, marketing and stabilization of prices, I was privileged to conduct many of these hearings.

After these hearings, we reported out two different bills, and on the Senate floor these were combined with yet another approach and sent to conference with the House. The reason was to allow conferees an opportunity to consider all approaches and then develop the best possible bill.

The bill the conferees agreed on was the so-called flexible parity bill, which would allow farmers some choice in the price he receives for his commodity based on the amount of land he takes out of production.

The administration strongly opposed this legislation and the President let it be known that he would veto the bill should Congress approve it. Then the House overwhelming turned the bill down.

Thus, I share the frustration and disappointment of so many farmers who worked long and hard to achieve an emergency bill that would help restore financial stability to the agricultural sector of our economy.

Now we must go back to the drawing board and try to fashion a bill that is acceptable both to the House and the White House. That will be very difficult to do for the current crop year because so many farmers have already begun planting.

But I continue to believe our farmers are entitled to more relief than has been provided either by the administration or existing law. And I think Congress should continue working toward that objective.

CARD OF THANKS: We would like to use this means of thanking all the people we have not been able to see in person for their kindness in the recent sickness and death of our beloved mother. Mrs. Elizabeth Tedder.

There will always be a warm spot in our hearts for all the people at the Johnson-Mathers Nursing Home who made her a "home" away from home with genuine love and care, for Dr. Hamon who did his best to make her last years as healthful as possible, for Bro. White and the Mathers-Shearer Funeral Home for a beautiful service and all the many friends and neighbors for their many deeds of love and kindness not only during her last years but throughout her life.

She took great pride in the fact that so many people called her "Mom" "Mama" or "Mom Tedder" and her heart was so big she would have mothered the world if she had the chance. We feel very fortunate to have had this lady for our mother so many years and although there is great sorrow at her passing on to a better life there is also comfort in knowing she will be missed by so many. God bless each and every one of you. Family of Elizabeth Tedder. 4-20-1t*

CARD OF THANKS: The family of Arnold C. Bowen wishes to express their deepest appreciation to those who provided encouragement, assistance, and friendship to our father during his long period of illness prior to his recent death. In particular, we would like to thank Dr. Kingsolver, the staff of the Nicholas County Hospital, other family members, and his nearest neighbor, Mr. Orie Mullins. The many kind expressions of sympathy, floral arrangements, and donations to the Heart Fund in his memory were highly appreciated by his family. The kind support of the community in our time of sorrow was a great help to his family. Jack, Gayle, and Minerva. 4-20-1tchg that," Gov. Carroll said. The Governor's guests last year were contest winner Mrs. Leslie S. Smith, Drakes Derby FRANKFORT — If you're one of those Kentuckians who's embarrassed to admit you've never been to the Derby, take heart — Gov. Julian Carroll may ask you to go with him.

In a random drawing from entucky entries later this month, Gov. Carroll will select a citizen who, with a companion of his or her choice, will be invited to join the governor for a full day of Derby festivities on May 6.

The winner of the second annual Derby Drawing will join the Governor and Mrs. Carroll at the traditional Governor's Derby Breakfast in Frankfort that Saturday and travel with the Governor's party later in the day to Churchill Downs for an afternoon of racing climaxed by the 104th Run for the Roses.

By establishing the Derby Drawing as an annual event, Gov. Carroll hopes to provide an opportunity for Kentuckians who otherwise might not experience the Derby to see it with him from the governor's box.

"The Derby is one of the world's most thrilling sports spectacles and one that Kentuckians are proud of, but many of our citizens don't get a chance to see the race for themselves and we're doing something about boro, and her daughter, Patricia Robinson of Paducah.

Entrants for the Governor's Derby Drawing must send their names, addresses, and telephone numbers to Derby Drawing, Governor's Office, Frankfort, KY 40601. Entries must be postmarked no later than April 21.
