Kentucky law requires that every motor vehicle registered in the state be inspected once a year. Official inspection lanes are found at service stations, repair garages and automobile dealers. Mr. Craft said that owners pay two dollars for the inspection. If the vehicle passes, the inspector marks it with a sticker good for one year. If it fails, said Mr. Craft, the owner must repair the defects and return to the station for his sticker. If the owner waits more than five working days, he must pay for another inspection.

Vet counselor

Howard R. Coburn, a veteran counselor for the Department of Human Resources, Kentucky center for Veterans Affairs, will be at the courthouse Tuesday, Feb. 14, to assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service. He will be here from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m.

Pesticide meeting

A Pesticide meeting will be held tonight (Thursday, Feb. 9) at 7 p.m. at the Extension Office in the basement of the courthouse.
