

Jackets lose two; win one during week

By Wendell McKee

The Bluejackets were defeated by the Frankfort Panthers 96-71. For the Panthers, who ranked third in the state, it was the 20th win of the season against a single loss. The Jackets led the Panthers 22-10 at the end of the first quarter before Frankfort pulled even at 18 points at the end of the game. The Jackets won the second period and never looked back. The Jackets trailed by seven, 46-31, at the half.

Frankfort showed their strength in the second half as their full-court zone defense baffled the Jackets. The hot-shooting Panthers outscored the Jackets 36-8 in the second half. The Jackets came no closer than seven points after the intermission.

Joe Haddock led the Jackets with 24 points, followed by Mike Hutton with 12.

Clifford Thompson with 11, and Mark Ruddell with ten points. Bobby Tischer had five tallies. DeWane Williams scored five and James Anderson finished with two points. Justin Rodden paced the winners with 22 points.

The following night the Jackets lost to the Montgomery County Indians in a 77-64 thriller. The game was close through most of the first half before the Indians took a six point lead at the intermission.

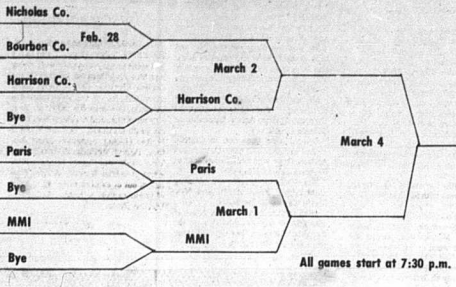

After trailing by as many as nine points in the second half, the Jackets knotted the score at 37 when Mike Hutton hit a goal with 2:59 remaining in the game. After three free throws by DeWane Williams and another Hutton basket, the Jackets led 63-59. Alan the Indians outscored the Jackets 6-1 in the final minute and a half of the game.

Joe Haddock led the Jackets with 17 points, while DeWane Williams added 16, ten of those coming in the final frame. James Anderson had nine tallies. Mark Ruddell scored six points. Arthur Doubtless led Montgomery County with 18 points, followed by Bill Williams with 16.

The "B" dropped two games. The first to Frankfort by a 61-41 score followed by a 65-50 loss to Montgomery County. The Jackets defeated MMI last Tuesday by a 68-52 score.

The Bluejackets play a make-up game at home Saturday night against the Bourbon County Colonels. "B" team game starts at 6:30 p.m. with variety action at 8 p.m.

Kentucky afield

By John Wilson

A hard winter like this one reminds us of the needs of wildlife during severe weather. All winters, even mild ones, extract their toll on wildlife populations, but this year conditions have been particularly bad.

So now, while this winter is still fresh in our minds, is a good time to start making plans for some spring and summer activities which will help wildlife. Almost any plot of ground can provide winter wildlife food, and even a suburban back yard can be made attractive to songbirds and other desirable species with the right kind of landscaping.

Owners of farmlands can carry out more extensive wildlife management techniques, of course, but many practices are the same for a back yard or a back forty.

A small food plot about the size of a home garden can support a lot of wildlife, according to Joe Bruna, game management director for the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. Corn or other grain crops can be grown on odd corners of the farm and left standing for wildlife. A small patch of sunflowers will provide seeds during the winter, and like corn will be accessible even when the ground is snow covered.

As an alternative to planting a food plot, the farmer can leave a row or two of corn, sorghum soybeans or other grain crops standing along the field border. If the field joins a wooded or brushy area, leave a row or two there. This places the food near good cover areas which many species need for protection.

Red Cross helps thousands of disaster victims

Active Red Cross disaster workers in communities from New Jersey to Maine are helping victims of one of the worst snowfalls in east coast history. Reports are incomplete due to widespread power outages and communication breakdowns, but the situation appears worst in Rhode Island. Red Cross there reports nearly 17,000 housed in over 150 shelters statewide.

Transportation in the area has been completely halted by more than 24 inches of snow. Even National Guard trucks and four wheel-drive vehicles are experiencing extreme difficulties and are inoperable in many areas.

Civil Defense and National Guardsman have been rescuing stranded motorists. Red Cross is handling requests for urgent medications.

Massachusetts was also hard hit, with over 2000 victims sheltered in eastern and southeastern areas and major flooding is feared in that state. Red Cross received assistance from CBS and ham radio operators and has requested volunteer four wheel-drive vehicles for emergency food deliveries.

Red Cross officials in eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware, New York and southern New Jersey reported many shelters opened and hundreds of individuals in them.

Christian duty!!!

Your Christian duty sometimes involves a little "show grease," and that's just what these youngsters were doing last Monday afternoon in front of the Carlisle Christian Church. With much snow and ice to remove from the sidewalk, the church's minister, Rev. Eugene White, had excellent help from his youth members. They are Wendell McKee (tagging camera), Grant Mathews, Darryl McPartland, Lori White, Tony Smith and Robert Hughes. Rev. White is behind Wendell McKee. Heading out of camera range upon sight of photographer is Kathy Mathews. —Duncan photo.

Last month safest January

FRANKFORT—Last month was the safest January on record for Kentucky motorists, according to Kentucky State Police statistics.

The 24 traffic fatalities registered last month make this year's first month the safest January since the State Police started keeping records in 1947, Justice Secretary John A. Smith said. He said the low fatality rate can be attributed to the bad weather the Commonwealth is experiencing.

"First of all, there were few motorists out on the highways most of the month because of the hazardous conditions. Most Kentuckians heeded Gov. Carroll's ban on unnecessary travel," Mr. Smith said. "Secondly, those motorists who were forced to venture out onto the highways drove with extreme caution, for the most part."

Mr. Smith said the State Police highway fatality records usually parallel the weather conditions, indicating that Kentucky experienced the worst weather this January than in any January since 1947.

"When the weather is as bad as it has been, few people venture out of their homes," Mr. Smith said. "Usually, we have fewer accidents. Under adverse conditions, most people stay off the roads, or if they have to be out on the roads, drive with good, common sense."
