Questions: What does Nicholas County have that other counties three or four times its size do not? Answer: A healthy recreation program and a good facility to house it. And that is an accomplishment that all concerned should be proud of.

National 4-H Week

This week, Oct. 3 to 10, has been officially designated as National 4-H Week. Most of our readers need no introduction to 4-H, being veterans of the program while at school.

Kentucky Reflections

May primary overshadowing November elections already

by George Street Boese
While it is eight months before Kentucky's gubernatorial primary, political pundits are already diligently examining their tea leaves, even before the November election at which a U. S. Senator is to be selected.

Traditionally, candidates for state office delay formal announcement of their candidacy until after the November election. If they campaign at all before that time, it has been done most discreetly. Not so this year. The state political pot is bubbling smartly already for next May.

Mercury vapors

by Warren R. Fisher
The cupboard was bare. I think the nursery rhyme goes something like this: "Old Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard to get the poor dog a bone".

Monday morning on the Wrattan 14 sidewalk I reacted into one of the lower shelves where I was positive I had a unit of Kodak PMT. It was a sheet of negative 100 sheets of 236 Kind which is the special receiver disc that I use. It was a sheet of negative 100 sheets of 236 Kind which is the special receiver disc that I use.

leeway in the SUA contract for more than $800,000. Gov. Carroll requested this cabinet be removed, and it was State Auditor George Atkins has had his office reviewing these contracts for many months. He is an announced candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1979 and opposes Carroll's effort to create a successor.

AP report, theorized that Atkins has followed and cannot defeat McRayner, who is expected to be the administration's choice. Atkins, watching the expanding investigations of Soney Hunt and truck dealer, say instead that Atkins' campaign has gone better than Hubbard likes and Hubbard is trying to complicate the picture of his campaign by making a move whether or not to make the race.

In bad public favor as politics are supposed to be, it is interesting to note the energy and interest of such a large number of aspirants.
