State Fair Participation

Nicholas County was represented in the 4-H Display at the state fair. If you were fortunate enough to see Cloverville, U.S.A. in the East Wing, you saw a collection of first place winners from county fairs and rallys from throughout the state. 4-H members from throughout all Kentucky made, refinished, or repaired items for the display of over 3,000 items.

Nicholas County youngsters accounted for 20 items. They were as follows: Electricity: Kevin Watkins, red, and Veda Vaughn, red; Home: Tim Fooks, blue; Woodcraft: Vincent Vaughn, red; Clothing: Melissa Jones, Blue, Veda Vaughn, blue, Beth Blair, red, Sandy Caswell, red, Vicki Bussell, blue, and Kathy Lynam, red; Arts and Crafts: Stitchery, Veda Vaughn, blue, String Art, Kevin Zachary, red, Weaving, Vincent Vaughn, blue, Scrap Art, Allison Knapke, red, Painting, Tim Fooks, blue and Drawing, Tim Rose, Blue; Foods: Veda Vaughn, red, Susanne Jones, white and Lisa Hinton, red. Congratulations to these boys and girls for a job well done.

Participating in the various events at the fair were Whitney Mathes, 4-H Horse and Pony Show; Lisa Tony Smith, Demonstrations; and Mary Ann Hollar and Allison Knapke, Talent Show. These youngsters represented Nicholas County well, so if you see them on the street give them a "pat on the back".

4-H What's Coming Up

In conjunction with National 4-H Week, Oct. 1-7, Nicholas County 4-H members will be conducting money-making projects. Oct. 1 will be "Popcorn Sunday"; Oct. 6 a bake sale will be conducted for the Conrad Feltner Leadership Recognition Fund and the last week of September will be the 4-H Calendar sales. (Last year some people wanted claendars, but were not contacted by 4-H members. If you want a 4-H calender and have not been contacted by Oct. 6, call the county office and we will see that you get a calendar and listings.)

As a matter of publicity for 4-H during National 4-H Week, a poster contest will be conducted at the schools. Top posters will appear in local businessmen's windows. These will be selected according to age groups and represent Nicholas County in a state contest. All 4-H members between the ages of 9-19 are invited to participate. Posters entered at the local and county level with anticipation of being selected for state competition must meet the following criteria:

—Poster must be created by a currently enrolled 4-H'er.

—Well known cartoon figures cannot be used because they are copyrighted.

—All posters must be designed on, or affixed to .016 ply construction poster board of 14X22 inch dimensions (¼ standard poster board). They may be horizontal or vertical. Poster may be produced by any medium—watercolor, ink, crayon, acrylic, charcoal, oils, collage, so long as they are not three dimensional.

—4-H is to be the topic for the poster. You can show what you think 4-H is, what you do in 4-H or what you think 4-H does for young people.

—Themes similar to those used on National 4-H Week posters, such as "Freedom to Be" should not be used.

—The 4-H'er's name, age and full address should be attached to the poster along with a brief explanation of the poster.

Let's get involved in 4-H as members and leaders by working in the poster contest. Encourage a 4-H member to do a poster-talk to him/her about it, and, set forth a plan of action. 4-H members, let's begin the new project year by becoming involved.

Gardeners may be 'bugged', a host of insects expected

Home gardeners can expect problems from a host of insects, according to a pest alert from an Extension survey entomologist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

P. E. Bloderbeck lists the following: European corn borers in sweet corn, peppers and snap beans, squash bugs on pumpkins and squash; fall webworms defoliating and making unsightly nests in various kinds of trees; white flies on tomatoes and possibly other plants in home gardens; corn earworms in sweet corn; onion maggots infesting onions being harvested; imported cabbage worms and cabbage loopers continuing to damage cabbage; squash and pumpkin vines dying from damage by squash vine borers; white grubs damaging lawns; and crickets a nuisance inside and outside of the home.

If you have one or more of these problems, check with your county Extension agent for agriculture to find out what, if anything, you can do to control the insects.

Extension agents located in every county in the state are sources of many types of information generated to help people by Extension specialists and researchers in the UK College of Agriculture in Lexington.

UK Art Dept. to hold show, theme on horses

The University of Kentucky Department of Art will sponsor an exhibition Sept. 12-Oct. 15 entitled "The Painted Horse: The Horse as Subject in Kentucky Collections," to celebrate the opening of the new Kentucky Horse Park and the World 3-Day Championships to be held there.

The free public exhibition, organized by Arthur F. Jones of the UK art department and Lafon Ingels of Lexington, will be in the gallery of the Fine Arts Building on Rose Street. Opening activities for the art exhibit will be Tuesday, Sept. 12, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Regular exhibition hours are 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday; it is closed on Monday.

More than 80 paintings by equine artists from the U. S., Germany, Austria, Hungary, France, Great Britain and Australia will be included in the exhibition.

Among the important 18th and 19th century British sporting painters to be represented are James Seymour, George Stubbs, H. B. Chalon, John E. Ferneley, Henry Alken St. and Jr., and John F. Herring. Works by early American artists Edward Troye, T. J. Scott, Henry Stull, Henry H. Cross and others can also be seen.

Paintings of the horse by noted Kentucky impressionist Paul Sawyier will be on display as well as more recent equine art by Milton Menasco, Allen F. Brewer, Adalin Wichman, Charlotte Bradbury and UK painter Marilyn Hamann.

A published catalog by Professor Jones, which includes a critical essay and illustrations of some of the works on display, will be available during the exhibition.

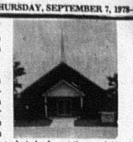
THE CARING CORNER

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." (Psalm 46:1)



My in-laws just came through a harrowing experience! They were sailing off the coast of Mississippi when a storm caught them and tossed their sailboat wildly. One guest became so frightened that she knelt in the cabin and began to recite the Lord's Prayer . . . but she forgot the words!! My mother-in-law knelt down and together as they clutched one another prayed the prayer. Suddenly the boat capsized and threw everyone into the water . . . by their answered prayers they were all rescued.

How many times have we been in situations where we either forgot the words or did not know what to say? Many times all that is necessary or needed is just for us to "clutch" them and pray with them . . . God does the rest. Remember, God cares about you.

Join us this Sunday in caring.
