Diversion channels

Homer Ned Tolson of the East Union Community is building some diversion channels above the bottom land where he will plant his row crops this year. The channels will catch the water that runs off the hills and prevent it from making gullies across the tobacco and corn fields. The diversion channels are designed to have a one per cent fall per 100 feet and can be planned with more, or less grade. The Soil Conservation Service designs each channel to carry all the water that runs into it. They can be built to drain 20 acres or two acres and can be made with a bulldozer or a farm tractor and plows. The SCS offers free advice on building channel diversions and cost-sharing can be obtained through the local ASC office. — SCS photo.

Take the danger out of farm ponds by Willmer Halcomb, S.C.S.

It is estimated that Nicholas County has 2500 farm ponds. Ponds, like any body of water, attracts people. When the two come together there always is danger of a drowning.

Ponds are a valuable asset and have many uses. During the past quarter century farmers and ranchers have built more than one and one half million ponds as part of their soil and water conservation plans.

You may be planning to build a farm pond or you may be one of the farmers who has built ponds with technical help that local Soil-Conservation Districts obtained from the Soil Conservation Service. You may have wanted livestock water, irrigation, or fire protection. But your family and friends will want to picnic beside the pond or swim, boat, fish, or ice skate. The small boy passing by may do most anything.

Your farm pond can be a source of joy as well as profit. But only if it is safe!

For all farm ponds: mark the safe swimming areas, place warning signs at dangerous points, place lifesaving devices such as ring buoys, ropes, or long poles at swimming areas. Post safety instructions for boating, swimming, and skating. Never swim or skate alone. Use boats that will float if swamped or capsized. Stay out of farm ponds during storms and when spillways are flowing. Recognize that farm ponds are hazards to small children. Nonswimmers should wear lifejackets in boats. All children should be encouraged to learn to swim under supervision.

Safety devices for your pond can be bought at your local hardware store, farm supply store, or a sporting good store.

You can write or come by your local Soil Conservation Service Office and get a pamphlet on: Make Your Farm Pond Safe Prevent Drowning PA-396.

County races set

The deadline has passed and the lineup is complete for the county races to be decided in the May 29 primary.

Due to no Republican opposition the winners of the races on May 29 will automatically win the office they are seeking without a November race. However, their names will be on the November ballot.

The race for Nicholas County Jailer and for Justice of the Peace in District Four both attracted four entries, the most of any of the four races to be contested.

The Justice of the Peace contest in District Two drew three challengers and the Coronor's race has two seeking the nomination.

All the offices up for election were vacated through resignations or death.

Candidates for jailer, named in the order they will appear on the ballot, are Herman E. Bretz, Lynn Bowles, Frank Hatfield and Charles Lenz.

Candidates for Coroner, in the ballot order, are Taylor Mathers and Billy Clark.

Justice of the Peace, District Two candidates, in ballot order, are Andrew Bretz, Elmo Myers and Vernon Craig.

Candidates for Justice of the Peace, District Four, in ballot order, are Gary W. Howard, Harold Mitchell, Floyd W. Bussell and James D. Anderson.

The incumbents in the races are: Jailer— Charles Lenz; Justice of the Peace, District Two — Andrew Bretz; Justice of the Peace, District Four, James S. Anderson and Coroner — Taylor Mathers.
