Farm census

published for each of the more than 3,000 counties which have agricultural operations, for each state, region and the entire nation."

According to Vice, additional data for states will be obtained in follow-up sample surveys of farms early in 1980. Subjects being considered for these surveys include horticultural specialties, farm finance, structural studies of corporations and partnerships, ownership and control of farms by financial institutions or foreign interests, on-farm irrigation, energy use, chemicals and fertilizers.

"The completed forms should be mailed back as soon as possible in January," Vice said, "in the confidential, postage-paid envelopes provided." Estimates are acceptable and should be reported in the absence of firm records. He emphasized that farmers and ranchers should not discard the report forms as costly follow-up mailings will be required until all forms are received.

Response to the census is required by law, and information furnished on the report forms is kept confidential. The law also provides that copies retained by the operator are immune for legal process.

The new farm census has been advanced one year to put it into phase with the five-year cycle of censuses of retail and wholesale business, industry and manufacturers starting in 1982. After that, the farm censuses will be held for years ending in 2 and 7.

Good fishing

On returning to England from a voyage to the New World in 1497, John Cabot told of a place where fish swam so thickly that his crew caught all they wanted just by lowering weighted baskets into the sea. King Henry VII called it a "new founde land." Cabot had discovered the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, still one of the richest fishing grounds in the world, National Geographic says.

Jackstown bridge bid awarded

The N. H. Stone Company of Sharpsburg underbid the next lowest bid by more than $20,000 to win the contract for the new bridge over Brushy Fork leading to the Upper Jackstown Road.

Bids for the bridge contract were opened Monday, Jan. 22, at 10 a.m. The Carlisle City Council, which had gathered at that time, then studied the bids and awarded the contract at a 7 p.m. meeting.

The N. H. Stone Company entered a bid of $83,700.75. Next lowest bid was submitted by Walker and Walker Construction of Berea with an amount of $105,506.90.

Concrete work on the bridge is expected to start around April 1. The bridge itself will be pre-cast and city officials have said the only time the present bridge will be out of service is when footings for the new bridge are poured.

Other bids received were: Judy Construction Company, Cynthiana, $100,254; Adams Construction Company, Mt. Sterling, $134,757.40 and Dixie Bridge Corporation, Lexington, $149,943.92.

The Stone bid came in about $20,000 under the estimated cost of $104,000 for the new structure. Funding for the bridge will be through a state program and the span will be the first built in the state under this program.

Can a lipstick dye prevent cancer? — C.R.

Nobel laureate Dr. Charles B. Huggins of the University of Chicago has preliminarly but evidence. His latest experiments involved the use of red dyes — Sudan 111 and IV — which are used to color lipstick. He said, "The dyes proved effective in preventing leukemia in more than 1,000 rats. It is very likely that there is a similar compound which may be used to protect people from cancer."

Can you tell me something about this new arthritis drug Clinoril? — C.P.

Any new medicine which can help to relieve the suffering associated with arthritis and related disorders is a welcomed addition. This drug, however, does not represent a significant breakthrough in arthritis treatment. Chemically it is similar to a product already on the market called Indocin. This is why this product has been coolly received in the United Kingdom. Clinoril has been available in the U.K. for about a year.

What is the difference between the Protein Sparing Modified Fast and the Liquid Protein Diet? — F.P.

At first glance, both appear similar. A closer inspection will show you some important differences. For example, liquid protein is poor in nutritional value; it contains only minor amounts of potassium, phosphorus and magnesium. If your physician is recommending a protein sparing modified fast, there is little risk when it is supervised property.

Her intense interest in and pursuit of the nature of adolescence, child rearing and the roles of women in cultures other than her own gave fascinating new dimensions to these timely topics in this country. From her first book, "Coming of Age in Samoa," a best-seller, to all her later works, mostly focusing on societies of the South Seas, she led the field and continues to even after her death. HOW TO PLAY: Read the list of words. Look at the puzzle. You'll find these words in all directions — horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backwards. Draw a circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle then strike it off the list. Circling it will show a letter has been used but will leave it visible should it also form part of another word. Find the big words first. When letters of all listed words are circled, you'll have the given number of letters left over. They'll spell out your MAGICWORD.
