

Gas prices up across state

The average price per gallon for gasoline in central and eastern Kentucky continued its rise in November. The cost increased one cent at full-service stations over the past month, and almost two cents at self-service pumps.

According to the Blue Grass Automobile Club's (AAA) fuel gauge report, the average cost at full-service stations is $1.07 per gallon for regular, $1.06 for premium, $1.07 for mid-grade, and $1.00 for diesel.

Self-service prices are 85 to 94 cents for regular, $1.01 for premium, and $1.06 for diesel.

AAA spokesman Bob Owen said, "Gasoline availability continues to be good, and we don't foresee any immediate price problems. The stations we contacted report no serious trouble in running short on allocations. None of them have had to limit sales or the amount of gasoline purchased."

Forty-three percent of the stations contacted are open past 8 p.m. on weekdays, and 47 percent are open past 6 p.m. on Saturdays. Sunday operations increased slightly over October, with 29 percent of the stations surveyed will be open Thanksgiving for the week.

CITY OF CARLISLE, KENTUCKY
For the years ended December 31, 1977 and 1978

The General Fund had a surplus of $79,638 as of December 31, 1977. The 1977 audit was partially due to the lack of property tax returns for the year 1977, which were not received until after the audit. The audit also revealed deficiencies in records of revenues for each of the last three years.

As a consequence, the General Fund's ability to obtain operations of current levels in the future without additional sources of revenues is uncertain.

The water, sewer and gas utility funds, had experienced net losses for each of the last three years. The water utility fund's net loss was $17,410 in 1977. The utility of this revenue is used to maintain existing facilities and to provide for the replacement of these facilities.

The water, sewer and gas utility fund had a receivable from the General Fund of $17,410 as of December 31, 1977. The collectibility of this receivable is dependent upon the General Fund's ability to obtain additional sources of revenues.

The District Court Judge, W. H. Singleton, reported that the following items were reported to him during the audit:

- Jeffery A. Frederick, Route Four, Terry J. Doyle, Route One, Carlisle, improper start from parked position, not guilty plea, continued until 11-20-79.
- Ann B. Brinary, Route Three, Carlisle, criminal littering on a public highway, guilty plea, fine $25, costs $20.50, 15 days in jail probated six months.
- William K. Robinson, no address listed, charge of plea hearing, plea of guilty entered to amended charge of theft by deception, fine $300, costs $30, restitution of $308.21, one year in jail probated one year.
- Elaine D. Shepherd, Carlisle, receiving stolen property worth over $100, not guilty plea, continued until 11-20-79.
- David L. Markel, Mockingbird Lane, Carlisle, post judgment hearing, recommended to ADE School.
- Charles Hopkins, Broadway, Carlisle, public intoxication, guilty plea, fine $50, costs $20.50, 10 days in jail probated six months.
