A special exhibit of paintings, illustrations and photographs of horses will be on display through April 13 at the Kentucky Horse Park near Lexington.
Participating in the exhibit are artists Yvonne Todd, painter and illustrator from Lexington, and photographer Lynn Irene Hamker from Harrison County.
Ms. Hamker's work has appeared in Horse Play, Spur and Dressage and Combined Training magazines. She has been the official photographer for the 3-Day Equestrian Events including the 1978 World Championships held in Lexington.
Todd uses oils or "water colors to capture the certain look or mood that each individual has." Her work has been on display in Montreal, Cincinnati and Louisville as well as local shows in Lexington. Illustrations by Ms. Todd have appeared in The Blood Horse, The Thoroughbred Record as a D. Classic Magazine. She is currently working to complete three paintings that will appear in a line of design note paper.

Agree or Not

Some legislators, accustomed to bargaining with the governor for their votes on some of his bills, told him early when they were called to his office that there was nothing in it for their district and they couldn't be expected to vote for it.

Apparently the governor learned to bargain. At least, that's what many legislators told me what happened in the last two weeks. True, he may have given me some at other periods, but he did bargain.

"A man lives by believing something; not by debating and arguing about many things."
