Local students scoring well

The results of the state-mandated Educational Improvement Plan have been received by Nicholas County School Superintendent Donald G. Elder and indicate that Nicholas County students are doing well in comparison to students across the state and nation.

The state plan requires that standardized tests be given students in grades 3, 5, 7, and 10 and that the results of these tests be used to plan and implement a remedial program to improve those skills which the tests reveal are deficient.

The test results are reported in grade-level percentages, percentiles, standard deviations, and stanines. The accompanying chart shows the percentage of Nicholas County students scoring average or above on this test to the percentage of students state and nation wide scoring in this same range.

"good-looking boots and handworking, too!"

My new Peeco Red Wings are good-looking boots and handworking, too! They give me a great feeling in my feet and good all day long, even on overtime. I really like my Red Wings. After all, I've earned them!
