USDA meeting

— A regional resource project approach to solve high priority conservation problems.
— State leadership.
— Regulations.
— Conservation bonuses for those who voluntarily use effective conservation measures.
— Natural resource contracts that pay producers who reduce erosion, save water, or perform other outputs of conservation work.

The meetings are being held to fulfill requirements of the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA). Under the Act, Congress directed USDA to appraise the condition of the nation's natural resources and to propose programs to guide future conservation activities of USDA.

As a result of RCA, three documents have been published that can be reviewed at USDA offices. These include Parts I and II of the appraisal and a summary of the appraisal, national conservation objectives for seven resource areas, and the alternative strategies named above.

The Department has set national objectives for reducing erosion and preserving prime farmlands; improving water quality; conserving water; improving fish and wildlife habitat, including the preservation of wetlands from destruction by agriculture and other means; reducing upstream flood damages; conserving energy; and solving related resource problems.

The purpose of the alternative strategies is to provide a selection of the best and most acceptable method of achieving national conservation objectives set by USDA.

Anyone interested in reviewing the documents before, or after, the Feb. 25th meeting should contact local USDA Soil Conservation Service or Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Offices.

Written or oral comments will be accepted at all meetings.

The public is also encouraged to send written comments about the appraisal or the alternative strategies to the USDA Response Analysis Center, P.O. Box 888, Athens, Georgia 30603. The 60-day review period ends March 28, 1980. For consideration, comments must be postmarked no later than March 28 and received at the Center no later than April 10, 1980.

At 05 Paul Revere was the first person in America to learn to roll sheet copper, used to resheath the bottom of the ship Constitution.

Notice

Some persons have been using the County trash dumpsters for disposition of dead animal carcasses. This is a health violation of State law punishable by fine of up to $1,000.00 and/or up to 30 days in jail. Violators will be prosecuted.

The public's cooperation in the proper use of the dumpsters will be appreciated.

Stiff was the wife of the famous founder of Pennsylvania, and certainly a woman of many talents herself. Trained in business and accounting, she took over her husband's affairs completely when he became an invalid in later life. She also raised their five children and managed her parents' estate for them. She was born in 1671 and died in 1726. Who was that lady? -Hannah ,Callowhill Penn

THE CARING CORNER

Job 22:21 "Agree with God, and be at peace; thereby good will come to you."

I get so mad I could just SCREAM! Why do things go so badly with me? Why do so many difficulties get in my way? Why, all of a sudden, does one thing after another go wrong?

Have you ever said or thought something similar? Probably so. It is called frustration or anger turned inward. Each of us sometime or another will encounter these feelings. The question is—how do you respond when you feel this way? Scream? That does not scare away the situation. Maybe when everything seems to get in our way, or we do not know what to do, or where to go, then we need to just sit down (Right There!) and say, "Lord, I am going to give you my problem and frustrations. You take it. I am going to trust in you to help me."

Now just giving God our problem won't solve everything, but it is the best start I have ever found and I hope you will find it too!

Join us this Sunday as we learn to solve our frustrations.

BARGAIN CALENDAR

One of your best defenses against spiraling living costs is to rearrange your spending habits — think ahead, and take advantage of sales, pre-season clearances. "Off-peak" buying can save you as much as 50 percent if you act at the right time, particularly on large, expensive items.

But keep in mind that sales may vary regionally, and a canny shopper keeps his eye out for bargains throughout the year. Meanwhile, here's a shopping calendar to help you find the bargains.

MARCH — This is the time to shop for skis, boots, parkas, ice skates. Look for sales on winter coats, housewares, laundry appliances, china, glassware. It's the month for Easter sales.

APRIL — This is a good time to search for sales on radios and stereo equipment, infants' wear, men's suits. Watch for after-Easter clearances.

MAY — The month for Memorial Day sales. Look for bargains in blankets, rugs, linens, also handbags, auto tires. Mother's Day sales are widespread.

JUNE — A good time to buy storm windows and house insulation. Also, reduced prices on television sets, furniture, washing machines. Look for Father's Day sales.

JULY — Near the end of the month you'll find a lot of stores holding sales on sportswear and sporting goods; air conditioners, garden supplies, garden furniture, refrigerators. Many stores run clearance sales after July 4th.

AUGUST — A fine time to buy cars, tires, summer clothing, painting supplies, camping equipment and outdoor clothing.
