Housing

in the report, Nicholas County is ranked first in the state.

That's the housing additions as percentage of increase in households. Nicholas County's rate for 1976-77 was 1000+ percent, indicating that many Nicholas Countians enlarged their homes that year instead of seeking larger quarters elsewhere.

In other categories, Nicholas saw the mobile home supply increase by 72 percent from 1970-78. In 1970 there were 141 mobile homes in the county. By 1978 the count had risen to 242.

That supports another contention of the report, that this region is turning increasingly to mobile homes to fill the gap caused by insufficient construction.

Income statistics

The report also contains income and economic statistics. The per capita income in 1978 in Nicholas County was $5,034, under the state average of $6,631 and the national per capita income of $7,721.

And 38 percent of the families in Nicholas County are ranked as "low income" families, using 1977 figures.

The median family income in Nicholas was $10,500, which is an indicator of the many families in the county in which both husband and wife work.

The median family income rose 62 percent from 1969 to 1977. In that same period the per capita income changed 106 percent. Nicholas currently ranks 57 out of 120 counties in Kentucky in per capita income.

Farming, industries lead

The distribution of 1977 personal income by occupation showed that farming and manufacturing accounted for almost half of the money earned in the county for that year.

Manufacturing made up 24 percent and farming followed with 20.6 percent.

A category marked "Transfer payments" was next with 15.9 percent. Service, government and retail made up from 5 to 7 percent each and miscellaneous accounted for 19.6 percent.

The study points out that per capita income in Kentucky from 1969 to 1977 increased 107 percent, or 9.85 percent per year.

But due to inflation in consumer prices read per capital income in the state only increased 26 percent from 1969 to 1977 as compared with the 107 percent increase in current dollars.

And neither per capita nor median incomes have kept pace with the increase in housing costs. Housing prices have increased 16 percent faster than per capita incomes.

Housing sales

The report shows that in 1978 in Nicholas 33 residential units were sold, compared with an annual sale of 36 units per year from 1970 to 1978.

In 1978 30 single family units were started, an increase of six over the 1970-77 average of 24 per year.

As for prices, the average existing single family house sold for $27,300 in 1978. From 1970 to 1978 the average house price rose 118 percent.

The report indicates that 72 percent of the residential properties sold in 1978 cost less than $25,000. There were five categories under $35,000 and each price bracket accounted for about 15 percent of the total sales.

'50's teams

while sporting 35 wins but it was the Jackets who captured the 10th Region that year and a place in Nicholas County history.

Which team was the last to beat Harrison? Lyle Anderson thinks it was his 1960 team that beat Harrison by one, 42-41, in overtime at home.

"They were highly-ranked that year and had beaten us by about 30 over there," Anderson recalled. "But we stalled the ball on 'em over here and won in overtime."

Shortly after that the two schools quit scheduling each other. Except for occasional matchups in the district they didn't meet on the floor for several years.

The Bluejackets' game against the Thorobreds may have served notice to future competition. NCHS is joining the Central Kentucky Conference next season and school officials openly admit they've got their eye on the all-sports trophy, given by the CKC to the team who averages the best finish in all high school sports.

"We feel we've got one of the best all-around sports programs anywhere," NCHS Principal David McMillan said recently. "Look at the basketball team. A lot of those boys play football and baseball and run track."

"We're really excited about being invited to join the CKC. We think it's a recognition of both the fine tradition the school has and the teams we have now. And we're going in there with the idea that we can compete."

[Note: A meeting of the Central Kentucky Conference is scheduled after the state high school basketball tournament. More information on NCHS's re-entry to the CKC will be available then.]
