THE CARING CORNER

Palm 66:16 "Come and hear, all you who fear God, and I will tell what he has done for me." Why is it that at times in our life we get farther and farther away from the people who could help us the most? Sometimes we are embarrassed or sometimes we are afraid that we will be rejected. A local maiden told me this story about a pay that got a job painting a yellow line down the highway. After three days, the foreman complained. "The first day you did great, you painted that yellow line three miles. The second day wasn't bad, you did two miles. But today you only painted one mile, so I'm going to have to let the foreman and said: 'I'm sorry, I can't do any more today.' And so it is with our spiritual life—each day to neglect Jesus as father from the "pay" can be an occasion.

Join us this Sunday as we learn to take the paint can with us.

Unlike last year's wet season, the weather was favorable for planting this year and most all acreage intended for corn was planted. As of June 22, reporters' indications are that 1.5 million acres are in the ground, and 1.4 million acres are in the ground but not yet planted. Corn planted acreage in the United States is estimated at 83.5 million acres, up 4 percent from 1979. Acreage intended for harvest at grain totals 73.3 million acres, also 4 percent above last year.

Wheat
Kentucky continues to be the nation's leading wheat corn producing district, and growers planted an estimated 110,000 acres, 30,000 acres above last year but 20,000 acres below 1978. Acreage for grain at 106,000 acres compares with 72,000 acres last year and 126,000 acres in 1978. Acreage planted to white corn in the 10 major counties is estimated at 473,000 acres, up 18 percent from last year. Soybeans
Kentucky soybean plantings total 1.65 million acres, down 4 percent from last year, but the second largest acreage on record. Acreage to be harvested for beans is estimated at 1.60 million acres, also down 4 percent from last year. This marks the first increase in soybean acreage in 4 years. Most emerged soybean fields have satisfactory stands and are reported in good condition. United States planted acreage of soybeans totals 73 million acres compared with 71.6 million acres in 1979. Harvested acreage totals 69.2 million acres compared with 73.3 million acres last year.

Tobacco
Barley acreage in Kentucky is estimated at 185,000 acres, up 19 percent or 20,000 acres above last year. The large increase is attributed to last year's short crop which fell 92 million pounds below the effective quota. Most tobacco has been set and stands are generally good except for some late set fields. Condition of set tobacco is mostly fair to good with scattered reports of poor where tobacco was transplanted late and into dry soil.

Other crops
Acreage in the Barley Belt is estimated at 275,000 acres compared with 270,000 last year and 261,000 in 1978. Kentucky acreages of all types of dark tobacco are down from 1979. Type 22 (Eastern dark fire-cured) acreage at 4,600 acres is down 15 percent while Type 21 (Western dark fire-cured) acreage at 4,800 acres is down 200 acres from last year. USDA lowers interest rates

Interest rates on housing and farm loans made by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration and rural loans made by the Commodity Credit Corporation have been reduced in response to the nation's rural credit needs, according to Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland. Changes in rates on OCC loans become effective immediately. Regular Farmers Home Administration farm real estate loans will carry new interest rate of 11 percent while regular farm operating loans will be at 8.5 percent.

The interest rate on all 1980 crop commodity loans made by OCC is lowered from 13 to 11 1/2 percent. However, the interest rate on OCC farm storage facility and drying equipment loans will remain at the 13 percent rate. Interest rates for Farmers Home Administration economic emergency loans to farmers were lowered to 11 percent for real estate and to 11.5 percent for production loans. Both had been 14 percent.

The new rates for emergency disaster loans will be 12.5 percent on real estate and 13.5 percent for production loans. Both had been 14 percent. Mortgage interest rates on low-to-moderate single-family homes were lowered to 11.5 percent and rural rental housing interest rates went to 10.75 percent. Both had been 13 percent. Regular Farmers Home Administration farm real estate loans will carry new interest rate of 11 percent while regular farm operating loans will be at 8.5 percent.

Interest rates for actual loss disaster emergency loans will remain at 5 percent as prescribed by law. Interest rates for the Farmers Home Administration program for "limited resource" farmers will remain at 5 percent for real estate loans and 7 percent for operating loans. Interest rates for loans guaranteed by Farmers Home Administration will continue to be negotiated between borrower and lender. These include loans for business and industrial development, for housing for persons with above-moderate incomes and for some farm loans.
