Human Resources seeks comments on food stamps

The Department for Human Resources wants to know what the public thinks about two aspects of its food stamp program — the location of the local food stamp offices and the hours those offices are open.

Until April 10 the Department's food stamp branch will be soliciting public comment as part of a county-by-county needs assessment. The purpose, according to branch manager Lela Bentley, is to determine the extent of state compliance with federal regulations and to identify areas in which additional services are needed.

Persons with comments and suggestions concerning the location and business hours of local food stamp offices are asked to mail them to Mrs. Bentley at the Department for Human Resources, Food Stamp Branch, 275 E. Main St., Frankfort, Ky. 40621.

— Notice —

Every 10 years the United States takes a census of population and housing. It's a very important nationwide project that will help our community in many ways.

The 1980 census is coming soon. On Friday, March 28, you will receive a census questionnaire in the mail. Please fill it out and—depending on the instructions—either mail it back on Tuesday, April 1, which is Census Day, or hold onto it until a census taker picks it up. Answer the census. We're counting on you.

We need some volunteers to help with the City Census. If you can help call the City office this week and give them your name.

eggs, a piece of toast and a cup of coffee. I want one egg fried and the other scrambled," he said.

She brought the food but he took one look at it and threw it into the garbage.

"What on earth could be wrong now?" his wife asked.

"You scrambled the wrong durned egg!"

It's the truth

A radio announcer was doing a Man-On-The-Street program when he grabbed a passing farmer and asked him the question of the day:

"What would you do with a million dollars?"

The farmer scratched his head for a moment, lost in deep thought. Finally he said, "I'd put it in my farm as far as it went."

He squeaks

Then there was the fellow who was so tight he didn't burn any gas going to church on Sunday but watched a televised service faithfully.

Not too faithfully, though. When it came time for the ushers on television to take up the collection he'd turn his set off.

RP FORAGES
Seed 'em and Reap.
Seed these RP forages and reap bigger quality yields from your pastures and hayfields. RP forages are genetically superior, backed by the company that's first in the science of yields—North American Plant Breeders.
APOLLO variety alfalfa® resists Phytophthora root rot (wet foot disease); greater yield potential, less damage from wilt, pea aphids and leafhoppers than other major varieties. Second only to Vangard in a 77-78 U.K. trial.
VANGARD variety alfalfa® resists both wilt and anthracnose for top production wherever hot, humid growing conditions threaten summer decline. Leafhopper yellowing tolerance. Topped all varieties in a 77-78 U.K. trial.
REDLAND variety red clover® has greater disease resistance and persistence, for unparalleled extra-season yield potential—up to 40% more than Kenland and Medium. Ideal for grass pasture renovation in Kentucky.
