Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

Several requests this week, so will give the one needed to be made as soon as possible. Pecan Cake, and it needs to ripen at least a month and it needs "diced" every week or so.

PECAN CAKE
1 cup brown sugar
2 1/2 cups white sugar
1/2 pound butter
6 whole eggs
4 cups flour, sifted
6 1/2 cups broken pecans (floured)

1 cup whiskey
1 1/2 nutmegs grated (4 teaspoons)
2 teaspoons baking powder
To keep this from being an all day job 1 flour the pecans and raise the night before. Use about one cup of flour and with hands flour the nuts until well coated, then put into large bowl and shake to remove excess flour.

Empty into large bowl. Now to the same with the raisins. They will be longer slices you want to separate each raisin. In a sieve, remove the excess flour and save. In fact use to make the 4 cups called for in recipe. Add all ingredients at room temperature.

In large bowl cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating in between. Add flour (sifted with baking powder) and whiskey alternately, then nutmeg. Remove beaters and gently add nuts and raisins with a wooden spoon and pour into well buttered pan lined with brown paper and buttered. Bake in 350 degree oven for 1 1/2 hours.

PECAN CAKE
ONE-THIRD SIZE
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup white sugar
1/4 pound butter
1/2 cup whiskey
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup nutmeg
1/2 cup flour, sifted
1/2 cup broken pecans
1/2 pound raisins

1/2 cup whiskey
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
Proceed as above except prepare pan and is very nice for gift giving. Bake at 350 degrees oven for 1 1/2 hours.

When cakes are done, cool in pan then remove, leaving pan on 18 days. Drain on heavy foil and store in tightly covered tin. About every 18 days drizzle with heavy cream, cover top with rewarp and repeat again in 10 days. Keep cake moist but not soggy.

tablespoons of whiskey over cake, rewarp and store.

Washington Frontier Christmas is Dec. 6-7

Washington Frontier Christmas, a two-day open house celebration, will be observed on Dec. 6 and 7. Under the auspices of the Limestone Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Old Washington, Inc., the museums will serve tea, cookies, coffee and cider free of charge.

Special Christmas dinner will be served both by Brodick Tavern and Haven's Chapel United Methodist Church. Strolling carolers will be on hand during the celebration. Many quaint and unique shops in Washington are now busy preparing for Christmas celebration. All the close of the two-day event, all bells in Washington will ring calling all people to the Old Church Museum for two hours.

There will be demonstrations of candlemaking, quilting, weaving and the making of Christmas wreaths. A demonstration of dulcimer making as well as dulcimer music will be featured.

'Scrooge' is coming to Carlisle Dec. 13

"Bah, humbug!" grumbles a scowling and miserly Ebenezer Scrooge. The spirit of Christmas Past and Christmas Future reveal their awesome messages. And 'Tis Tim exultantly exclaims, "God bless us everyone!" The Cratchit family, Scrooge, and many other citizens of the London of Charles Dickens, will soon appear as part of our Christmas Forcoming, December 13 to the date for their appearance. And their humorous voices will be raised in song, the transformation of "Scrooge" will occur, and the enthusiasm of 'Tis Tim will again resound.

"The Career of Monteverdi" is Nov. 22 at Transy music will be presented by soloists from the Union, the entire Union with chamber orchestra, and by the Transylvania Madrigal Singers, who will be guest performers on this concert. They are well-known in the Lexington area for their annual Christmas dinners. The concert is free and open to the public.
