Fraley's Carpet store brings 20 years' experience to Carlisle

Carlisle's newest retail business, Fraley's Carpets on Locust Street, brings with it over 20 years of experience in the flooring and ceiling business.

"I'm aware," Dee Fraley says that the move from Paris to Carlisle is something he feels very good about.

"We started to move a year and a half ago," Fraley said. At that time he started keeping an eye out for a good location when the old Senior Citizens' Center moved out of its Locust Street building, Fraley moved in.

"I like the town (Carlisle) and I just have a good feeling about it," he added. Fraley says that the strongest point of his business is that "we do honest work, we're Christian."

Fraley says that selection is also one of his new business. From wallpaper, to vinyl floor coverings, to a wide array of carpeting, to acquire here and there, etc. (Fraley even has a real estate license).

In the carpet line, Fraley said the picture shows capped pines in the lead of the Midnight Sun.

The second week was spent in Stockholm, Sweden at Bollerstran, Puhkilahti located on the island of Hjorn, out far from Gullberg, near the group joined two other seminars, one of which was studying weaving, and the other was composed of foreign students studying the Swedish language. This was a modern school interested in arts and crafts.

The group was entertained at a pleasant night by a Soviet quartet presenting chamber music.

The third week was spent at "Bakken" Scandinavian College in Helle, Denmark, which is a 15-minute train ride from Copenhagen.

Four other Danish ladies were enrolled with the United States Elderhostel group and they had the benefit of volunteer service by pointing out valuable Danish sites in and around Copenhagen, including Tivoli, a beautiful public entertainment park.
