Moorefield Homemakers meet

The Moorefield Homemakers held their regular meeting on Thursday evening, Feb. 5 in the home of Mrs. Jimmie Conrad with Mrs. Joe Smart and Mrs. Scott Martin as co-hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Hanson Ellington, the vice president. The devotional was given by Mrs. Elgin Clark. The roll was called to which 13 members answered with "your first valentine gift."

The club was glad to welcome Mrs. Lewis Cochran as our guest. The minutes were read by Mrs. James Hamm. The club voted to give one dollar per member for cancer research.

Mrs. Phyllis Ramey gave an interesting report on better tips for health and spending less. A tentative date for the annual meeting is Thursday evening, April 22, at 6 o'clock at the elementary school. Charles E. Burgin will be the guest speaker.

The lesson of the evening, "Diet and your health," was given by Mrs. Jack Becker.

Our next meeting will be March 5 with Mrs. Phyllis Ramey. The lesson will be "Legal rights of women."

Fleming Theatre will present prize winner 'Our Town' in April

The Fleming County Community Theatre (F.C.C.T.), The Broadway Maybe Players, have successfully completed negotiations with Samuel French, Inc. of New York for a local presentation of "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder. This group's first production is scheduled for Saturday evening, April 25 and a Sunday matinee, April 26, in the Fleming County Middle School Auditorium.

The play, a Pulitzer Prize winner for Playwriting in 1938, has established itself as an American "classic," and has been successfully performed hundreds of times, not only in this country, but in nearly every civilized country the world over.

The show's director is Fleming County native Joe Clark, a Morehead State University graduate and well known Maysville Player. Dixie Flanery is assistant director and Larry Gooding is producer and chairman of the F.C.C.T.

Local attorney Charles Rolph will portray the central character of the "Stage Manager," immortalized during the original New York run by the late Frank Craven, whose performance in the part has become a stage legend. A few years ago, the noted actor Hal Holbrook portrayed this part on television.

The unusually large cast is made up of F.C.C.T. players.

Time of the evening and matinee performances will be announced later.

Reserve tickets will be sold in advance and at the door.

Dr. Eslie Asbury is awarded honor

Dr. Eslie Asbury, Cincinnati and Forest Retreat Farm, Nicholas County, has been chosen by the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce to receive the "Great Living Cincinnatian" award, one of the highest honors bestowed upon a member of that community.

He has been an active supporter of the UC College of Medicine, founded the Alumni Council and is involved in the Literary Club of Cincinnati.

Boy Scout troops have Court of Honor

The local Boy Scout Troops held their annual Court of Honor ceremony Jan. 29, 7 p.m. at the library, with a candlelight service.

At this time presentation of merit badges and rank advancements were made.

The ranks of Scouting are Tenderfoot, Second Class, First Class, Star, Life and Eagle, the highest rank.

Local students on Dean's List

Five Nicholas County residents are among the Morehead State University students recognized on the 1980 Fall Semester Academic Dean's List.

The Dean's List includes full-time students maintaining at least a 3.4 grade point average on a 4.0 scale for the semester.

The list includes:

Elizabeth Griffith, 3.94; Floyd D. Johnson, 3.47; Gregory S. Letcher, 3.70; Pamela H. Vice, 4.0; Martha M. Cox, 4.0, all of Carlisle.

Former drug addict to speak at Headquarters

Clay Whitaker, student at Asbury Theological Seminary, will be the guest speaker at a public meeting Feb. 25 at 7 p.m. at Headquarters Methodist Church. His topic will be on the use and affect of drugs.

Being on drugs while playing for a rock group for eight years gives Mr. Whitaker first-hand knowledge of the devastating life of a teenage addict; what to do and what not to do to avoid drugs, and that there is hope for the addict.

Mr. Whitaker is part of a team of Asbury students that speaks to various groups about drugs.

The youth group of the church is sponsoring this program and invites teenagers and adults to attend this meeting and hear the inspiring story of one man's fight and victory over the use of drugs.

Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

We will continue this week with recipes using the Girl Scout cookies. I won't take up space with any comment other than by using the cookies you help the Girl Scouts and yourself.

PEANUT CREAM DESSERT

1 cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons sugar
24 Girl Scout Peanut Butter Sandwich Cookies

Whip cream with vanilla and sugar. Spread some cream on each cookie and stack cookies, side by side to form a roll. Cover roll with remaining cream being sure to cover completely. Refrigerate several hours or overnight. (The longer this dessert stands, the better it gets.) To serve, spoon some of the roll onto a dessert plate. May be topped with more whipped cream and crushed cookies. 8-10 servings.

BLACK FOREST PIE

1 9-inch unbaked pie crust
1 21-oz. can cherry pie filling
½ teaspoon almond extract
10-12 Girl Scout Chocolate Sandwich Creme Cookies
1 cup whipping cream
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon sugar
1 or 2 crushed Girl Scout Chocolate Sandwich Cream Cookies

Into the pie crust, spoon ½ of the cherry filling. Add the almond extract to the remaining filling, in the can and mix well. Arrange whole cookies on top of the cherry filling in the crust, covering filling. Spoon remaining filling over the cookies, smoothing top. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 25-30 minutes, until filling is bubbling and crust is well browned. Remove from oven and allow to cool completely. Whip cream with vanilla and sugar. Spread over cooled pie. Sprinkle crushed cookies over the top. Serves 8.

HEAVENLY CREAM CAKE

1 cup heavy cream
½ cup instant cocoa mix
Dash of salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
48 Girl Scout Shortbread Cookies

Whip cream, adding cocoa mix gradually. Beat in salt and vanilla until mixture is quite thick. Using about half of the cream, spread some of the mixture on each cookie and stack together side by side in a roll, placing on a platter or serving dish. Frost roll with remaining cream covering all of the outside. Store in refrigerator several hours or overnight. (Dessert improves the longer it stands.) Slice diagonally. Serves about 8.

For variety, add 1 teaspoon instant coffee to make a mocha flavor.

For a heavenly dessert using Girl Scout Assorted Sandwich cookies, try this:

1 cup heavy cream whipped with 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Spread whipped cream on each sandwich cookie, vanilla, chocolate or a combination of both. Stack 24 cookies in a roll, side by side. Cover with the remaining cream and allow to chill several hours or overnight. (The longer, the better!)

INSTANT COOKIE TRIFLE

12 Girl Scout Vanilla Sandwich Creme Cookies
1 1-pound can apricot halves
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 3¾-ounce package instant vanilla pudding
2 cups half and half (or use milk for a less rich dessert)
1 teaspoon almond extract

Arrange cookies to line bottom and sides of 6-cup serving dish or bowl. Drain apricots and reserve ¼ cup of juice. Add the lemon juice to reserved juice and pour over cookies. Cut apricots into smaller pieces and spoon over cookies, on bottom of dish, reserving some to decorate top. In a medium size bowl, mix together pudding and half and half. Beat on low speed, or with a rotary beater for two minutes. Stir in almond extract. Pour over cookies and apricots. Arrange reserved apricot pieces on top to decorate. Allow to chill several hours before serving. (Additional cookies may be used to top dessert if desired.)

USDA announces

New income standards for supplemental food program

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has set maximum income limits for people who participate in the special supplemental food program for women, infants and children (WIC), under final rules issued by the Department.

Previously, each state "set its own income limits and no limit was prescribed by USDA.

Under the final rules, states must set a maximum gross income limit for a family of four that is no higher than $15,490 and no lower than $7,430 a year. The maximum allowable income is determined by calculating 195 percent of the official U.S. Government poverty line, plus a current standard deduction of $80 per month.

The Omnibus Reconciliation Act, passed last month, established this as the maximum income limit for the WIC program.

The minimum income limit is equal to the poverty line.

State agencies will be allowed to use state or local income eligibility standards as the income limits for their WIC programs so long as these do not exceed or fall below the USDA limits. This flexibility is intended to allow participating health clinics to use the same income standards for WIC that they use in health care programs they may operate for low income women, infants and children. This should foster administrative efficiency and reduce paperwork.

The WIC program provides supplemental foods, nutrition education and health care to 2.2 million low income women, infants and children up to age five determined to be at risk because of inadequate diet or inadequate health care. Women participating in the program must be pregnant or breastfeeding or must have recently given birth.

The regulations governing WIC eligibility criteria were published in the Jan. 23 Federal Register.

Conservation News

conservation tillage system for a fuel savings of approximately 12.5 million gallons of diesel fuel in 1979 and 1980. The economic value was arrived at using a price of $.95 per gallon of diesel fuel."

Conservation tillage encompasses a series of techniques both cultural and managerial in nature designed to conserve energy, save labor and control erosion. There are two primary facets.

One facet involves such practices as crop residue management, cover crops, contour planting, grassed waterways, and reduced tillage methods that leave the crop residue on the surface. These activities either singularly or in a combination help reduce fuel consumption on the average from 5.32 to 2.66 gallons per acre.

The other area is called no-till farming. It entails no tillage at all except that needed to place the seed in the soil — a one time operation. Herbicides are used to kill vegetation normally controlled by tillage practices. This method uses less than one-seventh the amount of diesel fuel as does conventional tillage with four cultivation trips through the field. On the average no-till decreases fuel consumption to 88 gallons per acre.

"The Soil Conservation Service survey indicated that for the first time in the state's history more acres were planted using conservation tillage systems than conventional ones, Wood pointed out. "In 1979, 49 percent of the corn, soybeans and small grain acres were planted under conservation systems. These figures rose to 54 percent in 1980."

The third most popular hobby now is tropical fish. Coin collecting and photography are first and second.

THE CARING CORNER

Exodus 20:7 "You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in vain..."

As we celebrate George Washington's birthday, I recall a picture of George kneeling in the snow at Valley Forge. He was praying for his troops. . .men without blankets and food. George was a deeply religious man. Did you know that in July 1776 he issued a command banning profanity in the Continental Armies? We hear that and we say "How ridiculous!" We were at war. A war that was to determine the existence of this country and the commanding general is piddling around worrying about profanity in the troops. How ridiculous. . .or did he know something that we don't—about the destructiveness of taking the Lord's name in vain.

Did you know that you take the Lord's name in vain if you live as if God didn't exist? Join us this Sunday as we share in the "Ten Commandments."
