Solar energy advocates meet in Berea Jan. 23-24

Solar energy advocates from around the state will meet in Berea on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 23 and 24, for the second annual Kentucky Solar Coalition membership conference. The general public is invited to attend the Friday evening session to hear solar consultant Larry Strange of Nashville, and review community and commercial alternate energy exhibits.

The Kentucky Solar "Coalition, a group of solar professionals, community groups, and interested individuals, was established to promote use of renewable resources and conservation in the state.

The annual membership meeting, hosted by Mountain Community Energy Alternatives will begin Friday, Jan. 23 at 7 p.m. in Berea College's Frost Building, Room 106.

Larry Strange, past manager of TVA's Solar Nashville project and president of the Tennessee Solar Energy Association, will be the featured speaker. With a background in financing and marketing, Strange will speak on the economics of solar energy and strategies for encouraging solar energy applications.

Community groups and commercial firms will display projects and products that demonstrate innovative energy saving features. The Friday meeting will be capped by a country dance and refreshments.

KSC members will meet again Saturday to review the year's accomplishments, including grant awards and community workshops. Members will also discuss goals for next year, emphasizing work with the Kentucky legislative solar energy advisory committee on bills providing state incentives for solar energy use.

Persons interested in joining the KSC can register at either session. For more information on the Kentucky Solar Coalition, the meeting, or exhibits, contact David Goulsbee at 606-986-1641.

ANTIQUES

A hobby that will probably never go out of fashion is collecting antiques. It is fascinating, challenging, and if you know the ins and outs of collecting, you can some day make a good profit.

People collect old jewelry, metalwork, rugs, glass, silver, miniatures of all kinds, book plates, snuff boxes, furniture — you name it. Old country light up collectors' eyes these days, as do old photographs in good condition, old weathervanes.

To be a canny collector, you have to know your subject, your special interest. If you're just starting out, your first step should be to your public library, where you can peruse books on the subject. Or you can get paperbacks on the intricacies of antique collecting.

Many collectors take courses on collecting — at colleges, in adult education programs. (A good way to meet other collectors.)

Your next step is to visit museums that have antique collections. They also are likely to have books and pamphlets for sale. If there are historic houses in your area, visit them; they will usually have collections of fine old furniture and china.

Meanwhile, you are learning — from reading, from seeing and studying actual items. Concentrate on no more than two types of antiques — don't spread yourself too thin.

Now you're ready to visit antique stores that carry the things you're interested in. Get to know the owner; he can be a source of invaluable information. But leave your checkbook at home for the time being.

The final step — begin attending antique shows and auctions. Here you'll learn how the business really runs — how bidding is conducted, what items are in demand and what are not. As the current proverb

Feelin' Good

By M.A. PETTI, M.D.

When you first go on a low salt diet, everything tastes the same — like cardboard. But don't despair! If you stay on the diet your taste buds will eventually begin to taste the food instead of the salt, and then you won't miss it.

MAGICWORD

HOW TO PLAY: Read the list of words. Look at the puzzle. You'll find these words in all directions — horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backwards. Draw a circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle then strike it off the list. Circling it will show a letter has been used but will leave it visible should it also be part of another word. Find the big words first. When letters of all listed words are circled, you'll have the given number of letters left over. They'll spell out your MAGICWORD.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE by SALOMA

FOR RELEASE WEEK OF JAN. 26, 1981

If your birthdate occurs this week . . .

Star light, Star bright, is that a comet I see tonight? Or is it just another new space satellite?

Aries Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 Mars

Though wintry weather is still pretty much with us, the Arian Ram can really be a hearth-warming companion. The romantic Ram can pull his or her wool over any ice-type situation this week.

Taurus Apr. 20 - May 20 Venus

The Taurean Bull is tempted to charge into a slow-moving situation and goad it along. Red Flag Warning! Rushing a developing romance can get you the bum's rush instead. Let it happen naturally.

Gemini May 21 - June 20 Mercury

Geminian Twins find this week a mixed blessing. A series of opportunities presents you with difficult choices. Romantic matters appear to be the least confusing but appearances can be deceiving.

Cancer June 21 - July 22 Moon

Moon Children are inspired to get started on anything though winter is still with us. Thursday brings a confusing message. Everything eventually falls into place. A loved one's ideas appear to be sound.

Leo July 23 - Aug. 22 Sun

Though you're not prone to hide your light, this would be a good week to take some quiet inventory of yourself. Recalculate those plans and consider changing them. Leos who fail in love this week seek approval.

Virgo Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 Mercury

You're going to love yourself this week. It's perfect for indulging your need to straighten out your personal life. All those unspoken feelings can now be voiced. Someone approaches you with romantic feelings.

Libra Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 Venus

You come into your glory this week. It's the Libran way to want to weigh everything and this week everything you assess becomes an asset. What you accept without checking could check your progress.

Scorpio Oct. 23 - Nov. 21 Pluto

Suddenly, you're just so busy you don't know how you'll be able to handle all your new obligations. Relax. Work step by step and it will all work out. Romantic situations can be frantic situations.

Sagittarius Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 Jupiter

You have an urge to merge and the surge of your emotions is something you've been waiting to experience for some time. However, though love beckons, caution beckons high. Be sure feelings are mutual.

Capricorn Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 Saturn

The Capricornian Goat feels like kicking up a fuss over any little thing. Blame it on your stars. Things don't seem to be moving fast enough. But they are moving. Proof of progress comes by Friday. Charm pays off.

Aquarius Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 Uranus

Though you're tempted to follow advice from someone you never quite trusted, resist. Your first instincts are the right ones. Turn your attentions to someone whose attentions have been turned to you.

Pisces Feb. 19 - Mar. 20 Neptune

Someone you expected to come through with a long awaited promise will probably disappoint you. Prepare to have to make other plans without that person. Piscean Fishes can be adept at scoping net successes.

ON THE SUNNY SIDE

"You say I have illusions of grandeur? I'll wager my winter palace and the royal stables you're mistaken."

Laugh Out

"Where have you been?" inquired the boss.

"Getting a haircut," replied the workman.

"Well you can't do it on my time," said the boss.

"Why not? It grew on your time," replied the workman.
