players be concerned with cosmetics and have a few professionals to handle the major maintenance problems. He said that situation can help prevent the current condition of many parks where the cosmetics are beautiful, but the sewage system is failing apart, or some other "made" reality is creating a real problem.

He said he owes the role of his eight maintenance workers as one of "putting out the fires," while the permanent park employees can handle the everyday problems. He said he also uses the eight "crack-jacks" to instruct park staffs in certain procedures.

Headower said that his economizing in personnel when combined with the savings he has incurred as result of retooling used equipment and other cost cutting measures, have saved the state "1.6 million dollars" in the eight months he's been Director of Maintenance.

And he said that his program is beginning to pay off in more than monetary terms. He said that once people get used to his no-nonsense, "work until the job is finished" approach, it began to show rich dividends. He said that many players really get "motivated and interested" once "allowed" to have some initiative and responsibility on the job.

While at the local park, Headower conducted a maintenance inspection of the facility. He made several observations and recommendations, from proposed improvements to the chlorination process at the swimming pool to more organized storage of state equipment when not in use. A full account of his recommendations will be listed in next week's Mercury.

on fire. Both City and County fire crews responded to the alarm and the fire was contained to the trash room area of the store.

However, Bobby Crockett said that the fire spread into the installation of a large cooler, and that the installation was burned out of the cooler's top section. The cooler must be replaced, a procedure which will require the removal of a couple of sections of the store's walls.

Patrolman Trussell said that "it was set." He reported that the fire began outside of the trash bin and that it was raining at the time, making the paper in the area where the blaze broke out smoking wet.

Trussell also said that a gallon milk container was found near the site of the fire which had a small amount of gasoline in it.

Crockett said that he believes that the fire was deliberately set. He said that some of the burning paper the flames burst along a well defined line and ran into the trash room with explosive speed. Crockett added that he failed to see how wet paper could catch fire on a rainy night, had the fire not been set. To date, no suspects have been charged in relation to the incident.

Barkley favors price supports

Commissioner Allen W. Barkley II has gone on record in Washington as favoring the Federal Price Support System for Burley Tobacco.

In a telegram to the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC), Barkley said: "I strongly support the continuation of our existing price support and allotment system for burley tobacco. I further support any plan or program that would strengthen the tobacco program for the farmers of Kentucky."

Barkley's statement came in anticipation of testimony challenging the price support system at hearings being conducted by the ITC, which, under Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, is trying to determine whether certain tobacco imports are interfering with the tobacco program of the Department of Agriculture, or reducing the amount of any product being processed in the United States from domestic tobacco.

The ITC is to report its findings and recommendations to President Reagan upon completion of the hearings.

Accidents reported

City Police Chief Allen Earlywine reported two accidents in Carlisle last week.

The first occurred at 2:06 a.m. Wednesday morning when a car belonging to Freddy Hollar, Route 4, Carlisle, was sitting in the middle of West Main Street after having drowned out because of high water in the street, and a second car driven by Debbie Fryman, Route 4, Carlisle, ran into the stalled car.

Hollar was not in the car at the time of the official accident report, but the Mercury has learned that Freddy Hollar, Route 4, Carlisle, and Marsha Martin, also of Carlisle, were both in the automobile at the time of the crash. Both girls were taken to the Nicholas County Hospital, treated for minor injuries and released.

Both automobiles received considerable amounts of damage.

Another accident occurred around 5:30 Sunday afternoon when Rebecca Berry, 211 Elm Street, Carlisle, was traveling west on Main Street and hit an area of standing water, causing her to lose control and slide into two parked cars.

The two parked cars were reported to belong to William Section, 130 West Wood Drive, Richmond, and Layne Gray, Route 4, Carlisle. Chief Earlywine said that all three cars suffered considerable damage.

Deputy Sheriff Ralph Brookshire reported three county accidents last week.

The first occurred at 2:30 a.m. Wednesday when a 1977 Camaro driven by Perry W. Johnson, Route 1, Paris, went out of control and slid sideways into a light pole on East Main Street near Fred Buraw's garage.

Brookshire said that the car was totaled. Although no passengers were listed on the official accident report, the Mercury has learned that Margaret Duncanson, Carlisle, and Carlotta Anderson, Carlisle, were both in the automobile at the time of the crash. Both girls were taken to the Nicholas County Hospital, treated for minor injuries and released.

Another accident occurred at 12:10 Sunday on the East Union Road. According to Brookshire, William Lyman of Route 1, Capilde, was backing up in a curve and an automobile driven by Elaine Shaublin, Route 2, Carlisle, came upon the vehicle and ran into its back end.

Brookshire said that Lyman's bumper went up over the hood of Shaublin's car and tore up her grill and hood. Lyman's car received only minor damages.

At 11 a.m. Sunday a car driven by Gary W. Martin, Box 821, Owingville, ran off the road on Highway 50 approximately three miles from Carlisle and tore up a significant amount of fencing on both the Duncan and Scott farms, Brookshire said that Martin's 1970 Buick was totaled in the crash, but that the driver was not seriously injured.
