ROCK TRACKS

Don't even try to get tix for Bruce Springsteen's four July concerts at New Jersey's Meadowlands Arena. Tix staffers report they sold out on the first batch of mail alone and had to return requests for TEN TIMES the number of seats available ... The always exciting combination of jazz greats

Joe Williams and Count Basie saved the recent "Grammy Hall of Fame" telecast from total mediocrity ... Peter Frampton's new LP, "Breaking All the Rules," rocks from start to finish and includes an electrifying new version of "Friday on my Mind." It's Peter's finest hour ... Andy Gibb, skinny enough to begin with, dropped 14 lbs. rehearsing for his L.A. opening in "Pirates of Penzance." ... Yoko Ono's new album, "Season of Glass," features pop-rock melodies punctuated with references to John Lennon.

WHO WAS THAT LADY?

Born in 1901, this well-known academician and writer grew up in Philadelphia with four brothers and sisters and her professor parents. Her magazine columns, professional writings, public pronouncements and congressional testimony combined an intellectual brilliance and earthy humanity which made her a public favorite. From the time she received her doctorate in social anthropology at Columbia University in 1929, until her recent death, she was an influence and an inspiration to men and women alike.
