Association for retarded citizens begins new year

The Bourbon County Association for Retarded Citizens began their 1981-82 year with the annual potluck supper Monday night at the Memorial Building in Paris.

At the meeting Mrs. Joan Johnson, new director of the Adult Training Center, was formally introduced. In addition to Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Lanette Heckman and Mrs. Fern McDaniel will also be joining the staff this year. The Adult Training Center has opened with 22 participants.

A spokesman for the association said last week that although some of the problems with the ATC have been resolved, "other pressing ones remain to be addressed. Among those problems is the vacation of the Memorial Building "in the very near future." The association spokesman said that "we hope to make a permanent, not a temporary move."

Another area that promises to be a troublesome spot for the association are fiscal cuts in government spending, which are expected to effect the association in the future.

Correction

An article in last week's Mercury incorrectly stated that exercise and weight control classes will be offered at the Nicholas County Health Center beginning October 22.

The classes will be offered by the Center, and will begin on September 22.

Classes will be held, as reported, at the new armory.
