Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

It is hard to believe, but the time has come whed your school age child or children are coming in from school, saying "I'm hungry." If you know they like only peanut butter and crackers, plain cheese, or whatever is their favorite, don't wear yourself out trying something new. Go along with whatever they will eat. The main thing is a light, nourishing snack to hold them until dinner time. However, if your child is willing to try anything, here are some suggestions.

You might make up these sandwich fillings to have on hand.

HAM AND EGG FILLING

3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 can (4½-ounce) deviled ham
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons pickle relish

Mix together chopped egg, deviled ham, mayonnaise, chopped onion and pickle relish. Refrigerate until ready to use. Spread on slices of white or whole wheat bread. Add lettuce if desired. Enough for about six sandwiches.

SALMON SPREAD

6 hard-cooked eggs, finely chopped
1 (7¾-ounce) can salmon, drained, boned and flaked
½ cup finely chopped celery
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients, mixing well. Serve on your favorite bread. Pumpernickle or rye is very good. Makes about 3 cups filling.

If your child likes pizzas, try this. They are quickly and easily made.

MINI PIZZAS

4 large English muffins, split and buttered
Parmesan cheese
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
4 frankfurters
1 can (8 ounce) pizza sauce
½ cup shredded Mozzarella cheese

Place muffins on baking sheet; sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Toast under broiler until golden brown. Place 2 tablespoons Cheddar cheese on each muffin. Cut frankfurters crosswise into ¼-inch slices; arrange on muffins. Top each with 2 tablespoons pizza sauce; sprinkle with 1 tablespoon Mozzarella cheese. Bake 10-15 minutes or until heated through.

For something cool and refreshing to drink, try something other than bottled drinks. Fruit drinks are good. They may be made with juice left from canned fruits. If you have used the fruit for salad or dessert, the juice is good with ginger ale added. If that seems a bit sweet to you, try adding Club Soda. Chocolate milk is good and nourishing. If you feel there is a need for a more nourishing drink, add an egg, ice cream, or both. It makes a rich and tasty drink.

And don't forget, cookies and milk are always good.
