
Jim Judge promoted

A Carlisle native, Jimmie Judge, was promoted to the rank of colonel in the Kentucky National Guard in a ceremony Sunday, Nov. 21, at Boone National Guard Center in Frankfort. State Adjutant General Maj. Gen. Billy G. Wellman (right) made the presentation to Judge, who is employed by the Kentucky Department of Education in Frankfort and serves as Director of Logistics for the Kentucky Guard's State Area Command (STARC). Judge is a graduate of the University of Kentucky ROTC program and served two years in the active Army before joining the Kentucky Guard in 1958. He is married to Kathleen McKee Judge (left) and they have two children, Barbara and James Leslie. They live in Frankfort. Col. Judge is the son of Mrs. James Judge and the late Mr. Judge of Moorefield. — Photo submitted.

Southern States Members Meet

Douglas Fryman of Carlisle represented Southern States Cooperative's members at the association's 59th annual stockholders' meeting in Richmond, VA, Nov. 17-18.

Also attending the session was Mrs. Sudie E. Raney, local Southern States retail dealer.

They heard Executive Vice President and General Manager Gene A. James report that dollar volume for the organization for the fiscal year ended last June 30 dipped to $684.8 million, a decrease of about four percent under the previous year's record $713.8 million.

James also told the session that net savings also showed the impact of the distressed agricultural economy, the sluggish national economy and persistently high interest rates. Total 1981-82 savings, after taxes, reached $9.4 million as compared to $20 million a year ago.

New phone numbers given for reporting bad service

A new program that will mean almost half a million dollars in savings for South Central Bell will begin Dec. 4 when the company begins taking repair calls at two new telephone numbers.

Carl Renz, district manager for Bell, said the new numbers will serve all small business customers in Kentucky, and all residence and coin phone customers in area code 606. The new numbers are:

— All small business customers, 1-800-825-8000.

— 606 residence and coin phone customers, 1-800-825-2000.

Renz said residence and coin customers in area code 502 would switch to a new repair number in February.

Renz explained the reasons for the change: "We've kept our state repair center in Louisville open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, because we've got to be ready to respond to customer problems," he said. "But, as you can imagine, we're usually not too busy at 4 a.m. Saturday, or other off-times.

"With the new numbers, the Louisville repair center will receive calls between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. on weekdays. But all other hours, and on weekends and holidays, calls will be answered by our repair bureau in Birmingham, Alabama. Birmingham will be in instant communication with Kentucky to get our people out to fix phones in emergencies."

"We've been borrowing people from other departments to handle night and weekend repair calls," Renz explained. "Now, they'll be able to return to their regular jobs while our well-trained folks in Birmingham give Kentuckians the same fast, dependable service they've always had."

SALTIER THAN SALT LAKE

Mono Lake, at the eastern edge of the Sierra Nevada near Yosemite National Park, has no outlet other than evaporation and has not overflowed its basin in tens of thousands of years, according to National Geographic. Because of its minerals, the water is 2½ times as salty as the ocean.

Stay in black after white Christmas

Many people have a merry Christmas and start the new year off broke. But it doesn't have to be that way. There's no need to fall in debt and get the blues after a white Christmas.

You can avoid the post-holiday money crunch with careful financial planning.

Start thinking about Christmas in the spring. Put aside modest amounts of money. A few dollars here. A few there.

One of the best ways to save is with U.S. Savings Bonds. Bonds have a history of helping people weather financial storms. They keep you on a steady course, no matter how rocky the road.

Savings Bonds are dependable, like an old friend who's there in time of need. They're guaranteed safe, too. And with market-based interest, you're assured a competitive return. There's no risk. Just rewards.

Bond buyers are guaranteed 85 percent of the average rate on five-year Treasury securities — plus a guaranteed floor under the return to provide complete protection against a market drop.
