Licenses coming to clerk's office starting March 1

County drivers will no longer be receiving their computer-generated driver's licenses in the middle of March 1, according to Nicholas County Circuit Clerk Daily Wallace.

Wallace said that beginning March 1, the licenses will be issued to the actual licensee. In the past, drivers were mailed the license and then had to take them to the clerk's office to have the photograph attached and the license valid dated.

He also said that drivers living in Nicholas County should come to the courthouse in Carlisle to have their licenses renewed, even if they have been having them renewed in surrounding counties in the past.

Those who suddenly find themselves in the unemployment or underemployment must survey their financial obligations and spending habits, Bankston said.

Bankston emphasizes the importance of making informed decisions about financial obligations. "Several credit contracts to know what will stand the situation," she said. "Of course, they can limit their spending, but they also could seek part-time jobs."
