MMI holds meeting

The voting delegates of Milk Marketing Inc. (MMI) passed a resolution at their recently held mid-year delegate meeting that would begin the component pricing system for their members' milk Sept. 1, 1983. The program, originally presented at the December 1981 delegate meeting, was scheduled to begin Jan. 1, 1983. The newly established September deadline will give MMI members an opportunity to further evaluate the program.

With the start of the protein pricing program MMI will pay its producer/members at a higher rate for milk containing high levels of protein.

MMI Board Member from District 20 Gary Michael, Sidney, OH, told the 250 delegate meeting at the Fawcett Center in Columbus that the implementation of this program could enhance the taste and nutritional image of fluid milk and therefore, improve future Class-I sales. The protein pricing program could also assist MMI in even more effectively marketing members milk by putting MMI in a better competitive position.

In discussing the current general trends of the dairy industry Alger, along with Dr. Robert Jacobson, extension dairy economist, The Ohio State University, called the present dairy dilemma "depressing."

Looking for alternative ways to resolve the dairy surplus problem Secretary of Agriculture John Block, following guidelines established by the Reagan administration, has recently asked Congress for total discretion in setting the future prices of the support program. The proposal is unacceptable to most dairy producers since it would not offer enough long term production incentives for producers to meet future consumer demands.

for collecting nearly half of the nation's volunteer blood supply and for transfusing more than 90 percent.

Central Kentucky Blood Center, one of the American Association of Blood Banks members, depends upon 1,000 volunteer donors per week to maintain an adequate supply of blood. The Center supplies blood and blood components to Nicholas County Hospital and 36 others within a 43 county region. Approximately 400 pints are needed annually for Nicholas Countians alone. To assure ample blood availability, each county is asked to do its part in helping to meet blood demands by working to provide for their blood usage through ongoing volunteer donations.

Real property tax rate is set at 22.4 cents

Ron Geary, Secretary of the Revenue Cabinet, has announced that the 1982 state real property tax rate has been established as 22.4 cents per $100 of assessed value. This rate has been set to comply with current statutory language which prohibits the state from setting a rate that will produce more than a four percent increase in revenues from real property from one year to the next.

The 1982 rate of 22.4 cents is reduced slightly from the 1981 rate, 22.9 cents, to produce the allowed revenue amount from a tax base that has increased. Since the 1979 law took effect which requires this adjustment each year, the state real property tax rate has declined from 31.5 cents to 22.4 cents, or 28.9 percent in four years. This reduction has served to ease the tax burden on real property owners faced with increasing property values.

With the establishment of this rate by the July 1 statutory deadline, local tax districts can proceed with normal rate-setting and billing procedures as tax rolls are certified.
