Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

I know everyone is not going to make homemade ice cream and sherbets, but you might want to do something different with the kind you buy from the grocery. Ice cream and cake is delicious, and it is good served on fruit pies, and just plain. However, here are some things you can do that will make serving ice cream special.

TIPSY ICE CREAM CAKE

1 quart vanilla ice cream
2 cups whipping cream
16 lady fingers, split
3 tablespoons rum
½ cup chopped toasted almonds
Strawberries and fresh mint

Soften ice cream. Whip 1 cup whipping cream; mix thoroughly with ice cream. Line a nine-inch mold with lady fingers; sprinkle with 1 tablespoon rum; spoon in half the ice cream; sprinkle with 2 tablespoons chopped almonds. Repeat layers; top with lady fingers. Freeze until firm. Unmold onto serving plate. Whip remaining cream; sweeten to taste. Spread on top and sides of cake. Sprinkle with remaining almonds. Freeze until serving time. Garnish with strawberries and mint.

ICE CREAM MINCE PIE

1 quart vanilla ice cream
1 cup well-drained prepared mincemeat
½ teaspoon rum flavoring, or to taste
1 baked pie shell

Stir ice cream to soften and stir in mincemeat and flavoring. Spoon into pie shell. Freeze firm.

Before serving you might want to top each serving with a dollop of whipped cream. Remember to remove from freezer several minutes before time to serve.

CHERRY TORTE ICE CREAM PIE

¾ cup cracker crumbs
1 cup sugar, divided
½ cup chopped pecans
3 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 pint vanilla ice cream
Topping

Combine crumbs, ½ cup sugar and nuts. Whip egg whites until stiff but not dry; gradually add remaining sugar and vanilla. Fold cracker mixture into egg white mixture. Pour into greased and floured eight-inch pie pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Cool thoroughly. Torte will fall slightly on cooling. Fill center with ice cream and cover with topping. Freeze.

TOPPING:

1½ tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
Dash of nutmeg
1 cup cherry juice (from drained cherries
½ cup light corn syrup
1 (20-ounce) can red sour cherries, drained
1 teaspoon butter or margarine
Few drops almond extract

Mix dry ingredients in saucepan. Stir in cherry juice and syrup. Cook over medium heat until sauce thickens. Boil two minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add cherries, butter and almond extract. Cool thoroughly before spreading over ice cream. Torte will serve six or eight.

Try this for dessert when serving an informal, finger food buffet.

CUFFED CONES

Over hot water slowly melt 1 cup semi-sweet real chocolate pieces with 1½ teaspoons vegetable oil. Using a spoon, spread chocolate outside the top third of regular ice cream cones. Sprinkle generously with finely chopped walnuts. Place upside-down on a plate and chill to set, about 15 minutes, or until ready to fill cones with your favorite ice cream. Makes 16 party size desserts. These may be made ahead of time, and they freeze nicely.

Mrs. Brady's pillows

In addition to the occupation of making and repairing dolls and doll clothing, Mrs. Ina Brady of Elm Street, who will be 88 Friday, July 30, also crochets single pieces or medallions and sews them on pillows. — Mercury photo.

'Happy Birthday Ina!'

Carlisle's doll maker will celebrate her 88th birthday on Friday

"Santa Claus gave me my first doll and that was 83 years ago," Mrs. Ina Motch Brady of 209 Elm Street told the Mercury recently.

"That doll's name is Francis T," Mrs. Brady said, "and could be one of the oldest dolls in Carlisle."

Ina Brady is known far and wide for her work with dolls and doll clothing. At the moment she has several she is working on, "and as soon as I get caught up I might be willing to take on some more from other people."

When asked about her price, Mrs. Brady would only say, "My price is considerably less than the $200 you would pay in a store for a new one."

The occasion of the interview was Ina Brady's 88th birthday, Friday, July 30.

"There aren't very many people who have belonged to a church longer than I have. I have been a member of the Carlisle Baptist Church for 75 years, which makes me the second oldest member of the congregation."

Raggedy Andy

One of Mrs. Brady's specialties is Raggedy Andy dolls which she started making about seven or eight years ago.

"I go slow with doll-making because I don't like to be rushed."

Mrs. Brady makes the doll clothing from scratch and says that when the doll repairs get too serious for her, she refers them to Eubank's Doll Hospital at Hobby Hill, which is located at Route 3, Eubank, Ky. near Somerset.

"Several women from Carlisle have dolls there being fixed. It's a popular spot as they not only fix dolls but sell them and have accessories too."

Native of Carlisle

Ina Brady is a native of Carlisle and was born in what was then her grandmother's house on West Main Street where Mrs. Mildred Clark lives now.

"My father was George E. Motch Sr., and Mattie Barnett was my mother. At one time my grandfather owned a big meat packing plant in Cincinnati and he could speak five languages. I am lucky if I can speak one well."

Mrs. Brady said she is the youngest child of eight in the family which includes two sisters and five brothers, many of whom moved to Middlesboro, Ky.

In addition to her work with dolls, Mrs. Brady crochets medallion pieces, or single pieces of crochet work which she displays on pillows in her home.

For many years Mrs. Brady was the bookkeeper at the old Harpers Garage.

"In fact, I started work there before the building was finished in 1920. My brother George Motch was the Chevrolet dealer then. After that I worked for Joe Fults hardware and then the old Nicholas County Hospital where I retired."

Most of Mrs. Brady's dolls are named after characters in Louisa May Alcott's books, "Little Women." Thus she has dolls with the names of Amy, Jo and Beth.

At the age of 88, Mrs. Brady is doing well, interested in her work and her friends.

"It keeps me happy and it keeps me young."
