He knew a Gnu

Strange animals that look like horses from behind and bison from the front are actually large African antelopes known as wildebeests or gnus. During the dry season in their home range, some migrate more than 800 miles to eat and drink, National Geographic World magazine says.

Motorists Insurance Companies
471 East Broad Street Columbus, Ohio

Times are tough all over. At least one company—Motorists Mutual Insurance—is helping consumers fight back.

Addressing itself to the cycles and experiences faced by its policyholders, this Ohio-based insurance company designed a new automobile policy, introduced to Kentucky drivers May 1, 1982.

Dubbed the Anniversary Auto Policy, the new product rewards safe drivers with increased coverages at reduced rates. Licensed drivers aged 25 or over, regardless of marital status, who have not had more than one moving traffic violation and no at-fault accidents within the past 24 months could qualify for the plan.

Under the provisions of the new policy, drivers are not charged for their first accident or traffic violation. Towing and labor and rental reimbursement are included at no extra charge, and guaranteed lifetime insurability is granted to drivers aged 55 years or older who are insured under the plan.

A unique rating system eliminates age, sex and marital status. Rates are primarily based on the number of annual miles driven and years of driving experience.

This new policy marks another milestone in Motorists' innovative 54-year history, continuing a tradition of providing insurance products that satisfy the needs of today's consumer.
