Family

The family, with wife Marilyn, who is state chairperson for Vial of Life, a medical emergency information emphasis, are members of South Ephraim Church, one of the oldest churches in the county, situated on Harrodsdale Road near Keene Road.

South Ephraim Church came to Kentucky from Virginia as a Baptist congregation, with practically the entire congregation crossing the frontier into the Bluegrass. In its early days it was known as the Traveler Church, and last year current members (now a Christian Church congregation) chartered a bus and re-traced the route back to Virginia.

This fall, nearer Christmas, Earl and some other members of the church, with friends, will travel to Williamsburg and other Virginia points, not as tourists of last year, but as Kentuckians interested in their Virginia heritage.

Earl's training is in carpentry. He believes there is a big future in continuing education as older students attempt to keep up with the changing times and the emphasis is on changing job skills — whether through correspondence or evening classes or in regular, traditional classes.

Burley marketing changes proposed

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has proposed several changes in tobacco marketing which will affect Kentucky producers, according to state Agriculture Commissioner Alben W. Barkley II.

If the changes are approved, burley tobacco marketed in sheets will be eligible to receive USDA grades, Barkley said. In the past, sheeted tobacco was segregated, which meant that it was not eligible for price supports.

Also, USDA has created a new grade in an effort to reduce nesting of tobacco, Barkley said. He explained that nesting is a term used to describe tobacco which has been loaded, packed or arranged to conceal foreign matter or an inferior grade of tobacco.

The new grade mark is NON-NESTED, or so grade, nested. Tobacco with this grade would be ineligible for price supports.

The USDA has also proposed that minimum floor space requirements be increased for burley tobacco displayed in the auction warehouse.

The minimum would be increased from 18 inches to 24 inches, with less than eight inches between adjacent bins.

"This effort is to facilitate the inspection and marketing process," Barkley said.

Congressman Larry Hopkins:

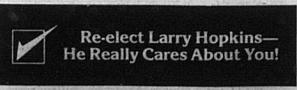

A Strong Voice for Kentucky Tobacco.

Tobacco is Kentucky's No. 1 cash crop—and a very important component of the State's economy, both in terms of employment and income. That's why we need a Congressman in Washington with the clout and leadership to fight for Kentucky tobacco.

We have that man in Larry Hopkins.

- Fact One. Larry Hopkins is the only Kentucky Congressman who serves on the important Agricultural Committee.
 - Fact Two. Larry Hopkins is the only Kentucky Congressman who serves on the Tobacco Subcommittee.
 - Fact Three. Larry Hopkins is the only ranking member of the Tobacco Subcommittee representing a burley producing state.
 - Fact Four. Larry Hopkins was raised on a farm and understands the problems of Kentucky farmers.
- That gives Larry Hopkins a strong, intelligent voice for Kentucky where it matters most.
- And that's why it means so much to all of us to re-elect Larry Hopkins on November 2.

Re-elect Hopkins Nov. 2!
