Arnold files to oppose G.A. Famularo

Chief District Judge Jack Arnold of Cynthiana has filed papers with the Secretary of State to be on the ballot in May, opposing G.A. Famularo for Circuit Court Judge, according to spokesmen in Frankfort.

Famularo was appointed to the Circuit Court seat for the 18th Judicial Circuit, which includes Nicholas County, by Governor John Y. Brown Jr., last fall, to fill out the unexpired term of retiring Judge John Lair.

Famularo announced last month that he was running for a full term of eight years in the post. At the time he told the Mercury he did not know whether he would have opposition.

Now, Arnold has announced that doubt.

Meanwhile, District Judge Wayne Fitzgerald has filed for Famularo's old district court seat, vacated when Famularo was appointed circuit judge. The district judge term runs through 1985.
