Here's last minute tax tips for you

"The April 15 deadline for filing state and federal income tax returns is rapidly approaching," says Attorney Steven L. Beahar. "Consumers will be gathering cancelled checks and receipts in preparation for filing their returns." Because tax forms grow more complicated each year, many people will have someone else prepare their returns. If you are unsure about how to prepare your own tax returns, you may benefit from the expertise of a tax preparer.

There are several types of tax preparers:
— An enrolled agent is certified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) after having worked five years as an IRS auditor or after passing a government exam. Enrolled agents are authorized to represent you before the IRS.
— A certified public accountant (CPA) has passed a professional qualifying exam. A CPA is authorized to represent you before the IRS.
— An attorney has passed a bar exam but may not have special training in tax. An attorney can represent you before the IRS.
— Other people described as "tax preparers" may have special training or experience. Several preparation firms have extensive training and experience requirements for their staff.

Individuals who prepare the tax forms or assist you in computing the tax owed, you are responsible for the accuracy of your return and for payment of the correct tax. An attorney who prepares your return, you are liable. You are equally obligated to pay the correct amount of tax and any penalty that is assessed. In some cases, the preparer will pay the penalty, but this is a contractual arrangement. Whether or not you must file a tax return with the IRS depends upon the amount of your income during the past year and your status as a taxpayer. The tax penalties provided by the IRS outline rules that determine if you are required to file a return. Even if you are not required to file a return, you should file a form to get a refund of income tax was withheld from your paycheck, or if you are eligible for "earned income credit."

Taxpayers can avoid additional costs in penalties and interest by filing the form and paying the tax when due. The penalty for failure to file is five percent of the tax that has not been paid for each month or part of a month it is late. This amount cannot exceed 25 percent.

of the total amount. Failure to pay will result in a penalty of one-half to one percent for each month or portion of the month it is late. This penalty cannot be greater than 25 percent of the total amount. These penalties will apply unless proof of reasonable cause for delay can be shown. If you must file a late return, be sure to attach a full explanation for the delay.
Attorney General Beahar warns consumers never to sign a blank return or one completed in pencil. To insure the accuracy of the tax return, review the final document. It is important to sign and date the form. If filing a joint return, both partners must sign the return. The preparer, someone you have paid to prepare the return, must also sign the form.

The subject of legalizing liquor sales in Nicholas County has been banttered about for some time now. Advantages and disadvantages have been put forth by both sides in the discussion, and a decision will be made that will affect Carlisle and Nicholas County on Saturday, April 16.
We would encourage the people of our county to insure that their decision truly does affect our community. The problems associated with alcohol abuse have been repeatedly pointed out by opponents of legal liquor sales, and no one can deny that they exist. There are drunk drivers on our roads; there are alcoholics in our community; there are all of the dangers and evils of alcohol abuse present in our community today.
The only segments of alcohol consumption that are not present in our community today are the positive aspects of legalized liquor sales.
If Nicholas countians are average consumers of liquor then they spend approximately 1 million dollars a year in communities other than ours on liquor. Legalizing liquor sales would mean a 5% increase in retail sales in our community. It would mean an additional seven or eight jobs in our community. It would mean keeping Nicholas County dollars in Nicholas County, and it would mean attracting increased retail sales from outside our community.
A portion of our county has been selling liquor legally for some months now, and yet all of the prospects of evil that this would bring have not been realized. What has been realized have been the positive aspects of a viable business economy: increased jobs, new buildings, and renovation of older buildings. The revenues from legalized sales have been putting food in people's mouths and clothes on their backs, not just the retailers, but their employees, carpenters, electricians, and others, all your neighbors.
Increasing total retail sales through the legalization of liquor sales is one way in which our community can finally begin to receive some of the positive benefits from a situation that has existed in our county for some time.
That portion of the population that presently drink will still drink regardless of the outcome of this election. Those people that presently break the law, abuse drugs and community is to receive the beneficial effects of liquor sales: increased revenues, jobs, and economic viability, then the outcome of the election must be for the legalization of liquor sales in Carlisle and Nicholas County.

"Our health insurance covers just about everything. Does yours?"
We call our health insurance, Shelter Comprehensive Health Insurance. And for a lot of good reasons. For example, we pay maximum benefits up to $1,000,000 to keep pace with today's rising medical costs. That includes doctor visits, prescriptions, unlimited expenses for a semi-private hospital room, and any surgical expenses and treatment of disease or injury. Now that's what I call coverage.
