Cabin to be auctioned here Friday

One of the more authentic floats in the inaugural parade was Daniel Boone's Last Home in Kentucky entry from Nicholas County. Bobby Fay, bedecked in buckskins, portrayed Boone. Inside the cabin are Mrs. J. F. Waggoner, Mrs. Charles Fay, Mr. Fay and Mrs. Courtney Gum. The log cabin will be auctioned to the highest bidder Friday, Dec. 22, at 3 p.m. at Johnson Matthers Health Care by Jewel Vice. Proceeds will benefit the Nursing Home Activity Fund. — Photo submitted.

MAKING FAMILY LIFE MORE FUN

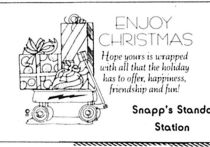

Families who read a lot always have great stories to tell each other. What happens when someone in the family who loves to read has impaired vision? It's not such an isolated case. According to the National Association for the Visually Handicapped, nearly 11 million vision which cannot be fully corrected with eyeglasses or contact lenses.

Happily, reading can be fun again for many with limited vision. Thanks to magazines and books which are printed in large type. For example, in 1972, Reader's Digest Fund for the Blind, Inc., began publishing the Large-Type Reader. Each month, more than 100,000 copies of Reader's Digest Condensed Books and sections from other Digest publications. Both the Large-Type Reader and the Large-Type Edition are designed to be good reading for the visually impaired. Dogs kill pet goats

The pet goats, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dorey Watkins, Old Paris Road residents, were killed Monday morning by what appeared to be a pack of dogs. Mrs. Watkins, court clerk, said she discovered the loss when she went home shortly after the noon hour. The Sheriff's office investigated the killings, described as the work of dogs, rather than other wild animals, the toll was destroyed.

JOY TO THE WORLD

80 percent of burley crop sold

Burley tobacco auctions resumed for the Christmas break after the fourth week of sales. At present, sales are set to resume Monday, Jan. 3, 1934. The Federal-State Market News Service reports the market was not quite as strong again last week, but both quality and grade prices slipped somewhat from last week. Loan receipts increased to the highest percentage so far this season. Volume became light at several markets by the end of the week. By the latest crop estimate (42,675,000 pounds) around 80 percent of this year's production has been sold, leaving approximately 8 million pounds for auction after Christmas. Green sales for the week ending Dec. 12 totaled 24,274,700 pounds and averaged $17.45 per hundred, down $1.47 from the week before. The season figure stands at 227,000,000 pounds, averaging $17.54.
