Judy Bullington to exhibit two fiber weavings at UK

Judy Bellamy Bullington of Carlisle is among the 46 Kentucky artists whose works are on exhibit at the University of Kentucky Art Museum.

"Kentucky Art 1983" opened March 5 on the Lexington campus and continues through April 16.

The exhibit is the result of a statewide competition which attracted some 600 entries by 259 artists. Harry Rand, curator, 20th century painting and sculpture, National Museum of American Art, Washington, D.C., was jurist for the exhibit.

Ms. Bullington, Route 2, Carlisle, has two fiber weavings included — "Nomarch's Symbols #1 (blue)" and "Nomarch's Symbols #2 (mauve)."

The UK Art Museum, located in the west wing of the UK Center for the Arts, corner of Rose Street and Euclid Avenue, is open from noon to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday. Special group visits are available by appointment. Admission is free.

For more information, contact the UK Art Museum, 606-257-5716.

Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

This week try some egg and cheese dishes if you are observing Lent. These dishes are quick and easy to prepare.

EGG CROQUETTES

¾ cup thick white sauce
8 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
Dash of nutmeg
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon minced onion

1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon water
1½ cups cracker crumbs

Combine white sauce, chopped eggs, seasoning, pimiento, parsley and onion and mix well. Chill several hours. Form into croquettes, using ¼ cup for each one.

Mix egg and water. Roll croquettes in cracker crumbs; dip into egg mixture; roll in crumbs again. Let stand 20 minutes.

Fry in hot fat (375 degrees) till golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes 10-12 croquettes.

You may cook croquettes in heavy skillet with margarine or butter melted. Brown about 3-5 minutes on each side.

STUFFED EGG CASSEROLE

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes (3¼ cups)
½ cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
6 hard-cooked eggs, deviled
¼ cup buttered bread crumbs

Melt butter; blend in flour. Add tomatoes, onion and seasoning. Cook and stir until thick. Pour into 10x6x1½-inch baking dish.

Arrange deviled eggs in sauce; top with crumbs. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) for 10 minutes or until hot. Serve on toast.

SWISS ONION BAKE

Cook 2 cups sliced onions in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine till tender but not brown. Spread in bottom of 10x6x1½-inch baking dish. Top with 5 hard-cooked eggs, sliced, then with 2 cups shredded process Swiss cheese.

Mix 1 can condensed cream of tomato soup, ¼ cup milk, and ¼ teaspoon pepper; heat, stirring till smooth. Drizzle sauce over casserole, be sure some goes to the bottom.

Butter eight slices of French bread. Overlap atop egg slices. Bake in 350 degree oven 20 minutes or until hot. Broil to toast bread if necessary. Cream of shrimp soup may be used.

***

Fluffy omelets are always good, and the fillings are endless. Just use your imagination and let your taste buds be your guide.

CHEESE ONION TART

1 (9-inch) unbaked pie shell
1 pound onions
2 tablespoons butter
¼ pound Swiss cheese, grated
¼ pound cheddar cheese, grated
2 tablespoons flour
2 eggs, well beaten
1½ cups cream
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Slice onions thinly. Saute in butter until golden. Cool slightly and spoon into pie shell. Toss Swiss and cheddar cheese with flour. Stir eggs in the cream and add salt, Worcestershire sauce and pepper. Spoon cheeses over onions and pour egg-cream mixture over all. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake 20 minutes, then reduce oven to 325 degrees and bake 20-25 minutes. Remove to rack and cool 10 minutes before serving.

I have better luck if I bake the pie shell about 3 or 4 minutes. Don't let it brown, then start filling with onions, etc.

Consumer Alert warns public about Reye Syndrom

Reye Syndrome (RS) is an acute condition which may follow influenza or chicken pox infections in children from infancy through late teens. Some studies show an association between children under the age of 19 of age taking aspirin and their development of RS. Attorney General Steven L. Beshear advises consumers to get a physician's opinion before giving aspirin or products containing aspirin to a child.

RS is a rare condition that involves swelling of the brain, liver malfunction and blood chemistry disorders. The disease has a 20-30 percent mortality rate.

Symptoms include persistent vomiting, violent headaches and listless behavior. Within half a day, the child can become disoriented and delirious. RS is a medical emergency. An ill child who shows signs of developing RS should be taken to the hospital immediately.

Because of studies showing a link between aspirin and Reye Syndrome, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has proposed that certain salicylate-containing drug products (mainly aspirin) be labeled with a warning. This warning would appear on both prescription and over-the-counter drugs.

The proposed over-the-counter drug label states: "Warning: This product contains a salicylate. Do not use in persons under 16 years of age with flu or chicken pox unless directed by your doctor. The use of salicylates to treat these conditions has been reported to be associated with a rare serious childhood disease called Reye Syndrome." The prescription drug warning would be similar.

Salicylates are compounds used in medicines to lessen pain, reduce fever or cut down on inflammation. Products containing salicylates are used in external analgesics, such as body rubs. Salicylate-containing products that would require a warning are those applied to the skin or used as mouthwashes.

The FDA is considering various warning label placements. One would require the warning statement to be placed on all outside container or wrapper labels and on the package insert. Because consumers do not always read warnings on frequently used drugs, FDA may require a statement to be added to the "directions" label on over-the-counter drugs. The proposed statement reads: "For persons under 16 years of age, see warning against use of salicylate for flu or chicken pox."

"Parents should be especially on guard during flu season, October through early April. A physician is the best person to decide when medication is needed for childhood illnesses," warns Attorney General Beshear.

Comments and/or questions may be directed to the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, 209 St. Clair Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601-1875. Consumers may also call our toll-free Consumer Hotline at 1-800-432-9257.

Senator Ed Ford is one of two to head Collins campaign

The gubernatorial campaign of Martha Layne Collins has announced the appointment of two sixth congressional district co-chairmen. State Senator Ed Ford of Cynthiana and State Representative Hank Hancock of Frankfort will head the Collins campaign effort in the sixth district. The announcement came from Collins' headquarters in Frankfort.

"We are fortunate to have two co-chairmen with the leadership abilities of Hank and Ed," the Lt. Governor said. "We'll be looking to them for the coordination and leadership needed to make our campaign effort in the sixth district a successful one," she added.

Senator Ford represents portions of Bourbon, Fayette, Harrison, Nicholas, Robertson, Scott and Woodford counties in the Kentucky State Senate. He was voted outstanding freshman senator when first elected to the Senate in 1978. Hancock has served in the Kentucky House of Representatives since 1974 and was speaker pro-tem during the 1980 session. Hancock represents Franklin County.

Collins campaign chairman Senator Joe Prather said, "The sixth district is one of the most important areas of the state for our campaign," adding, "Working with our county organizations throughout the district, Ed and Hank will play a vital role in Martha Layne's eventual election as governor."

Library Notes

Nicholas County Librarian Jorita Anderson announces the receipt of several new books by the library.

Floating Dragon by Peter Straub. In this tour de force, the author of Ghost Story and Shadowland harnesses his skills to create the story of four disparate people who discover a malignant evil in their suburban town and try to escape before they become its victims.

Hype by Steven M.L. Aronson. Both hilarious and sobering, this outrageous book describes and decodes the mechanics of hype, and in the process dissolves the inflated careers and reputations of such celebrities as Gloria Vanderbilt, Vidal Sassoon, Cheryl Tiegs, Barbara Walters and Nancy Reagan.

Killdeer Mountain by Dee Brown. As a newspaper man uncovers conflicting reports about Charles Rawley and his act of dishonor at Killdeer Mountain, a story emerges far more complex and contradictory than any of the tellers suspect, a Mythic tale of disguise and adventure, the West and the Civil War.

Working Out by Charles Hix. Addressing today's appearance-conscious man, the author of Looking Good and Dressing Right presents a practical and comprehensive volume which shows men how to exercise their bodies into the shape they desire.

Smurf Adventures, Romeo and Smurfette and 12 other Smurfy adventures, the Smurfic games and Smurf of the one and Smurf a dozen of the other by Peyo. Filled with stories about the little blue Smurfs and their doings in Smurf Village, Smurf Adventures are full-color books with text and art in the comic book style. They were introduced with the publication of King Smurf and the Astrosmurf.

Stick by Elmore Leonard. The author of Cat Chaser spins a high-spirited tale of intrigue that jumps from a Michigan prison to the wheeler-dealer world of high finance on Florida's Gold Coast.

On Meeting Life's Challenges edited by Ted Miller. Solid, straight-to-the-heart reflections show Christians how they can find the inner resources to overcome such serious problems as anger, depression and the feeling of failure.

Flames of Glory by Patricia Matthews. In the latest, lushest romantic novel from the author of Embers of Dawn, two women must face difficult decisions about their men as love and politics collide in the Spanish American War.

Stands a Calder Man by Janet Dailey. Taking us through the early part of this century, the third book in Janet Dailey's magnificent Calder saga tells of Webb Calder's fight for the love of a beautiful immigrant woman.

The Whip by Catherine Cookson. Set in northeast England in the mid 19th century, this is a story of Emma Molinero, a woman who fascinates and mystifies the loyal people because of her fiery independence and her skill at performing with a whip, her father's only legacy to her.

Kings in the Counting House by Herbert Mitgang. Mitgang, cultural correspondent for the New York Times and author of The Montauk Fault, has written a thriller about the hidden Cold War control of the world's information and intelligence resources.

The Transfer by Thomas Palmer. When Ray Hula is forced by his black-sheep half-brother to help smuggle a ton of cocaine into Miami, he suddenly finds himself caught up in a scheme that snowballs into a life-or-death adventure. A compelling thriller set in the midst of Miami's explosive drug scene.

The Complete Prophesies of Nostradamus, revised edition, translated, edited and interpreted by Henry C. Roberts. To meet the powerful resurgence of interest in Nostradamus, here is the over 1,000,000 copy-selling The Complete Prophesies of Nostradamus, a compendium of all his prophesies, plus the original French texts, as well as interpretations of each one.

The Delta Star by Joseph Wambaugh. Detective Mario Villalobos and the unforgettable Los Angeles cops at Hampart Station link a local homicide with a run-ground Soviet submarine in this fascinating police story with a scientific twist from the author of The Glitter Dome.

Dun & Bradstreet's Guide to Your Investments: 1983 by C. Colburn Hardy. Revised and updated, this 38th edition of an annual bestseller is a concise guide to planning, protecting and increasing your investments. Includes new chapters on pensions, financial futures, and the dangers of money market funds.

Mary Ellen's Help Yourself Diet Plan, the One That Worked For Me, by Mary Ellen Pinkham. The funny, rueful story of Mary Ellen's battle with her weight includes an eight-step program, guaranteed to help you lose weight without pain. Includes menus, a shopping list, and an easy routine of exercises, plus a full section of hints and anecdotes relating to food.

The I Love America Diet by Phyllis George and Bill Adler. Based on the Federal Dietary Guidelines for Americans, this diet is designed to keep you slim and healthy for the rest of your life while letting you enjoy your favorite all-American foods. National author tour. Feature in People Magazine.

Blue Rise by Rebecca Hill. The heroine of this remarkable first novel returns to her home on Blue Rise in Mississippi to come to grips with the problems of her marriage and her true feelings about her parents.

On the Black Hill by Bruce Chatwin. From the acclaimed author of In Patagonia comes this affectionate, dramatic tale of two Welsh identical twin brothers, whose complex lives reveal their version of what paradise should be.

Ellis Island by Fred Mustard Stewart. The author of the best seller Century presents a compelling, passionate novel about five young people who came to America with nothing more than a penny in their pockets and hope in their hearts.

The Eleventh Year by Monique Raphel High. A tale of tremendous passion and hidden secrets set in the glittering world of Paris in the 1920's from the author of Four Winds of Heaven and Encore.

Emerald by Phyllis A. Whitney. A rich, fast-paced novel of romance and suspense by the top American writer in the field. Emerald is set against the beautiful desert background of Palm Springs and is the story of a young woman who flees there, with her small son, to the protection of the only other relative she knows to find a whole new set of problems, romance and danger.

Little Rabbit's Merry Christmas, a sniffy book by J.P. Miller. Everything smells so good at Christmas time, and Little Rabbit is eager to help with the preparations in this story with six fragrances to scratch and sniff.

Ralph S. Mouse by Beverly Cleary. The hero of the best selling The Mouse and the Motorcycle and Runaway Ralph now finds himself in a mysterious place known as school. But his classroom experiences are enough to shake anyone's confidence.

The Open Canvas by Carolyn Ambuter. From Carolyn Ambuter, author of the classic guide, The Complete Book of Needlepoint, here is an expert instructional encyclopedia of 300 decorative stitches for the delicate patterns of openwork. Includes 500 stitches and 16 pages in color.

Looking, Working, Living Terrific 24 Hours A Day by Emily Cho and Hermine Landers. The author of Looking Terrific not only shows working women how to dress for their particular career, but far more important she tells them how to develop an image that will help them in their upward climb.

The Read-Aloud Handbook by James Trelease. The award-winning artist and writer for the Springfield, Mass. Daily News presents an inspiring and commonsense approach designed to help parents, teachers and children rediscover the joys of reading aloud.

Jane's House by Robert Kimmel Smith. In the bestselling tradition of Ordinary People and Krainer VS Kramer, this emotionally satisfying novel begins with the aftermath of a tragedy, the death of a much-loved wife and mother, Jane. The story develops around her husband's remarriage and the problems of living in Jane's house.

Carrie Mae farm joins

Carrie Mae Farms owned by Clifford and Carrie Shumate of Carlisle has recently become a lifetime member of the American Simmental Association.

ASA is unique among beef breed associations in that it offers only a one-time, one-payment life membership. Once a person joins the association, there are no future dues or membership payments.

"We want to extend a sincere welcome," said ASA Executive Vice President, Earl B. Peterson, from the association's headquarters in Bozeman Montana.

Founded in 1968, the American Simmental Association now numbers more than 18,000 life members. ASA has exceeded the 800,000 figure in number of animals in the Herdbook.

Simmental cattle originated in the Simme Valley of Switzerland, and have been in North America only since 1967. In that time, the Simmental breed has grown enormously in numbers and in popularity. The breed currently ranks fourth among U.S. beef breed organizations in the number of animals registered annually.

"The Simmental producer benefits greatly from his relationship with the ASA," Peterson said. "Recognition of genetic trait leaders, the publishing of the National Simmental Sire Summary coupled with corresponding data on growth and maternal traits provide valuable management tools to the cattleman."

An awards program to honor outstanding females in the breed is also maintained. "This program helps the producer identify the superior cows in his herd," Peterson added. "We feel that the cow makes the difference."

SAVERS WARNING

NEXT, THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT IS GOING TO WITHHOLD TAXES FROM YOUR SAVINGS INTEREST AND DIVIDENDS. . . .

The recently passed tax bill will require us to withhold and forward to the Internal Revenue Service 10% of the interest you earn on depository accounts, certificates, and dividends. It will require unnecessary paperwork, and your personal loss of these funds during a critical time in our economy.

A vigorous campaign to convince Congress to repeal this 10% withholding tax is urgently needed. To be successful, this campaign will require the help of each and every one of our valued customers.

Our bank, along with financial institutions across the United States, is working to change the law. We feel that it is unnecessary, unfair, and unjust. The federal government is already receiving all the information it needs to curtail tax cheating.

We urge you to join our efforts by writing letters to your representative in Congress and to the two senators from this state. Tell them you want the 10% withholding tax repealed, because it would impose an unfair penalty on savers like yourself.

For assistance in contacting your representative and senators please ask any of our bankers. If we all act now, Congress will get a clear message from the voters back home, and they will work to repeal this needless law.
