

G. A. 'Jerry' FAMULARO

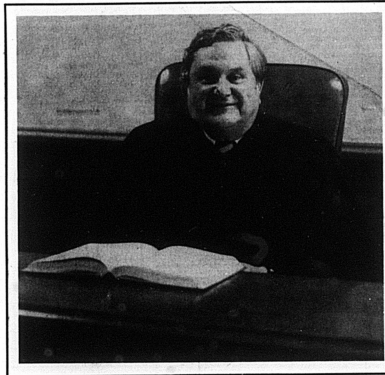

for Circuit Judge

Courage . . .

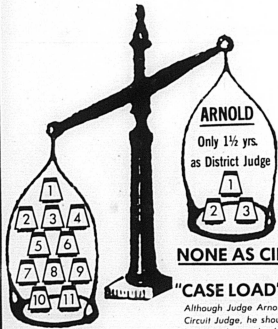

to take a stand on a controversial issue in Nicholas County knowing he was going to enter the Circuit Judge's race, and knowing full-well, too, his stand would be an unpopular decision with some of the voters he would like to support him.

Experience . . .

practicing attorney for 45 years, 30 of which were served as Robertson County Attorney (7 terms); District Judge 5 years; Chief District Judge 3 years; Special Circuit Judge 3 years; Circuit Judge since September, 1982; Veteran of World War II, served in U.S. Army under Gen. George Patton, awarded Bronze Star, Medal of Verdun, 4 Campaign Stars.

Vote for Experience Tuesday . . . Vote Famularo

NONE AS CIRCUIT JUDGE

"CASE LOAD" IS NO ISSUE
Although Judge Arnold has never served as Circuit Judge, he should know the difference between the caseload in District Court and that in Circuit Court.

Do you want your Circuit Judge to decide your thousands of dollars accident suit or your child custody case as fast as your District Judge can dispose of a clear-cut traffic violation?

Family Man . . .

married to Alvena Hester Griffith; father of two sons (both attorneys), Joseph Leslie Famularo—deputy Attorney General, Frankfort, Ky., former U.S. Attorney; John Michael Famularo—member law firm of Stires & Harbison, Lexington, Ky., former Chief District Judge, Fayette County; four grandchildren—Joe Dan (14), Michael (11), Katie (8), and Amy (4).

Community Minded . . .

farmer, member Kentucky Farm Bureau, member Robertson County Fish and Game Club, director Farmers and Traders Bank, Mt. Olivet, Ky., director Ky. Chapter of the National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, formerly president County Attorneys Association and vice-president District Judges Association of Kentucky.

Paid for by Jimmy Carter.
